Dear Mr Starky,

Thank you for your request of 1 April 2009 under the Freedom of Information Act.

You asked to know how many vacancies were advertised within our department on 1 April 2009 broken down into those advertised internally and externally.

The Wales Office is a small department and part of the much larger Ministry of Justice for administrative purposes. The Wales Office itself only advertises internally within the Civil Service and there were no vacancies advertised here on 1 April 2009.

If you are unhappy with the decision made in relation to your request, you may ask for an internal review. You should contact Alan Cogbill, Director of the Wales Office at the above address if you wish to complain.

If you are not content with the outcome of any internal review, you have the right to apply directly to the Information Commissioner for a decision. The Information Commissioner can be contacted at:
