Dear Mr Gaffney,

Re: Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 – Request for Information

Thank you for your email which was received by the University on 6 October 2009 timed 09:00 hours, requesting the following information:

“I would like a breakdown of the percentages of students born in each calendar month (e.g. August, September, etc) studying at undergraduate level (and postgraduate level) at the University of Glasgow in 2009.
Further I would like to see this broken down into each course studied and each year of study.
Further if it wouldn't be too difficult I would like to see the percentage born in each calendar month and its effect on degree classification awarded in 2009.
(I believe the August/September dates of birth will prove extremely interesting!)”

University's Response

Please see the attached Appendices 1 - 3 in response to your request for information.

The supply of documents under the terms of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 does not give the applicant or whoever receives the information any right to re-use it in such a way that might infringe the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 (for example, by making multiple copies, publishing or otherwise distributing the information to other individuals and the public). The Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 (Consequential Modifications) Order 2004 ensured that Section 50 of the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 (“CDPA”) applies to the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 (“FOISA”).

Breach of copyright law is an actionable offence and the University expressly reserves its rights and remedies available to it pursuant to the CDPA and common law. Further information on copyright is available at the following website:

Your right to seek a review

Should you be dissatisfied with the way in which the University has dealt with your request, you have the right to require us to review our actions and decisions. Please refer to the Review Procedure (<http://www.gla.ac.uk/services/dpfoioffice/policiesandprocedures/foisa-complaintsandreview/>) for further information. All complaints regarding requests for information will be handled in accordance with this procedure.

Yours sincerely,
