Dear Mr Ormerod

Freedom of Information request – RFI20091487

Thank you for your email of 26 October seeking the following information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (“the Act”);

Copies of all emails sent from '@bbc.co.uk' email addresses of BBC's General Counsel, Regulatory Legal staff and the Information Policy and Compliance team to Christopher Graham, Information Commissioner, and all emails received by '@bbc.co.uk' email addresses from Christopher Graham, Information Commissioner to those same BBC staff.

The reference number for your request is RFI20091487.

All staff in the areas of the BBC's legal department detailed above have searched their email records and have taken all reasonable steps to locate the information you seek but have not been able to do so. So far as we are able to determine the BBC does not hold the information you have requested.

You may however be interested in the two attached emails. The first is an invitation sent on behalf of Christopher Graham to James Leaton Gray, Head of Information Policy and Compliance, to attend the launch of The Guide to Data Protection. The second is Mr James Leaton Gray's acceptance email. These do not meet your request criteria, but we are happy to volunteer them for your convenience.

Appeal Rights

If you are not satisfied with this response you have the right to an internal review by a BBC senior manager or legal adviser. Please contact us at the address above, explaining what you would like us to review and including your reference number. If you are not satisfied with the internal review, you can appeal to the Information Commissioner. The contact details are: Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire, SK9 5AF, telephone 01625 545 700 or see <http://www.ico.gov.uk/>

Yours sincerely,

Fern Kersey
Adviser, Information Policy & Compliance
