Dear Mr Beckles,

I refer to your email of 13 January 2010 in which you ask for a breakdown by staff category of the information provided to you in response to your request dated 13 December 2009 (Reference: FOI-2009-148).

Three of the appeals against dismissal were brought by academic staff and one was brought by a member of academic-related staff; none of the members of staff held an office established by Statute or Ordinance.

Two of the post-compensation settlements were reached with academic staff and the two remaining settlements were reached with a member of academic-related staff and a member of assistant staff respectively; none of the members of staff held an office established by Statute or Ordinance.

I am sorry that you were not satisfied with the University's explanation concerning the cost of complying with your request. As previously advised, the location, retrieval and extraction of the requested information would require a manual search of each and every personnel file. These comprise at least 500 files. A sampling exercise, using a random selection of files, indicated that it would take c. two minutes and forty five seconds to search each file. The University's estimate was calculated on this basis.

Yours sincerely,

Kirsty Allen
