Dear Mr Booth

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION REQUEST

Thank you for your e-mail of 21 July. I am extremely sorry for this lengthy delay which has been due to administrative oversight. I can now provide the following response, in addition to the information we provided on 2 March in response to your original request for information.

You asked:-

Q3) How many of the people quoted on the web page work for IPS, the Home Office or any other government department or agency?

We can confirm that eight of the nine people quoted on the website at the time either worked for the Identity and Passport Service (IPS), the Home Office or another government department or agency.

You also asked:-

Q4) If they do (or did) not work for IPS or another government agency, how did the individuals identified as 'JW, London', 'PE, Kent', 'JP, London', 'KM, London', 'VN, Tottenham', 'CB, London', 'MM, north London' and 'JW, Kent' receive an ID card before 8th February 2010?

You will see that that not all the individuals identified above work for IPS, the Home Office or another government department or agency. All identity cards were issued under the terms of the commencement orders in place at the time. The commencement orders are already in the public domain.

I hope that this now answers your request in full and I apologise again for the time it has taken to respond.

Yours sincerely,

Diane Lambert
