(2) Once appointed, the Returning Officer is independent of and separate from the County Council. He is, however, able to claim fees and charges for the conduct of local authority elections from the Council. In respect of local authority elections held during 2007/08, the Returning Officer received payments of £530 in relation to fees and travelling expenses. In relation to local authority elections in 2008/09, the Returning Officer has not yet finalised payments and claims and will not do so until after the end of the financial year.
