Dear Mr Black,

Re: Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 – Request for Information

Thank you for your email which was received by the University on 19 December 2008 timed 2345 hours, requesting information about:

Could you please provide me with a list of all banks that the University of Glasgow has deposits and the amount that is deposited in each bank?

As the University of Glasgow is a Scottish Public Authority, your request is subject to the terms of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 (“FOISA”). The University acknowledges receipt of your request and confirms that it will respond to you under the terms of FOISA and within the time scales required by FOISA. The Freedom of Information Office will contact you if we require any further information.

Please note the following advice from the Scottish Information Commissioner’s website:

“The Act says that a request must include the name of the applicant and an address for correspondence. The Commissioner has confirmed that an e-mail address is sufficient when you are asking for information. However, if you send your request by email, you must give your name in the body of the email to fulfil the requirement that the name of the applicant is given. Even if your name appears in your email address (e.g. john.smith@hotmail.com) you must add your name to the text of your request, so that it is clear who the email is from.

You must give your real name, as the public authority does not have to answer your request if you have used a false name or pseudonym. The Commissioner will not be able to carry out an investigation if he finds out that you have used a false name.

If you have particular reasons for not wanting to reveal your identity to the public authority, you should ask a friend or family member to make the request for information.”
