Dear Mr Maxwell,

Request for Review: Due Dilligence

I refer to your emailed request received 20th June 2012 to Edinburgh Napier University ("the University") to review its decision notified on the 2nd of May 2012 in relation to your original request for information, which was submitted by email on 1st April 2012.

In your email, you request a review of the University's response. I have reviewed the process by which the University responded to your request and my findings are outlined below.

Review Decision

In your email dated 1st April 2012 you requested a copy of any due diligence reports the University holds in relation to the sale of the estate at Craighouse.

In the University's response of the 3rd May 2012 we explained that the only record held which was relevant to your request was a report prepared by the University's property consultants GVA Grimley and Jones Lang LaSalle on the Invitation to Tender Process which was held in 2010. A copy of this report was provided to you on the 19th December 2012.

The University holds no further records relevant to your request.

Your right to seek an appeal

If you are dissatisfied with the outcome of this review you have the right under the FoISA to appeal to the Scottish Information Commissioner. If you wish to do so, you must appeal to the Commissioner within six months following the date of receipt of the review notice (that is, within six months following the date of the receipt of this letter). The Commissioner's contact details are as follows:

The Scottish Information Commissioner
Kinburn Castle
Doubledykes Road
St Andrews, Fife
KY16 9DS
Email: enquiries@itspublicknowledge.info

You also have the right to appeal to the Court of Session on a point of law following a decision of the Commissioner.

Yours sincerely

David Cloy
Assistant Secretary
