Dear Mr Delahunty,

RESPONSE TO REQUEST FOR INFORMATION

Thank you for your request for information which has been dealt with under the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

You have requested the following information:

"In a speech published on 8 October, Baroness Stowell said:

"I have seen action, including litigation, that seems motivated by, or part of, a wider, aggressive response to the Commission's legitimate regulatory scrutiny.

"And I have seen challenges that seem less motivated by the best interests of the charity's purpose and beneficiaries, and more about shielding individuals from accountability to protect their personal reputations."

Based on the the [sic] chair's description of actions, litigations and challenges above, can the commission provide the total number of cases it has considered "less motivated by the best interests of the charity's purpose and beneficiaries, and more about shielding individuals from accountability to protect their personal reputations," from 1 March 2018 until 1 October 2020."

I can confirm that we do not hold the information requested. The Commission does not systematically record information in the way requested.

If you are dissatisfied with the handling of your request or the decision which has been reached, you have the right to ask for an internal review. Internal review requests must be submitted within two months of the date of this response and should be addressed to the Charity Commission at PO Box 211, Bootle, L20 7YX (email: RIGA@charitycommission.gov.uk).

If you are not satisfied with the internal review, you are able to appeal to the Information Commissioner. Generally, the ICO cannot make a decision unless you have exhausted our review procedure. The ICO can be contacted at the Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire SK9 5AF (email: casework@ico.org.uk).

Yours sincerely,

Lucy Breakspere
