Questions and Responses

I am emailing you in regards of obtaining contact information for the most suitable person to contact via telephone/email/post. If possible, could you forward me on relevant contact information for any persons specialising in;

- ☐ Information Security

I would be very grateful if you could you state their position within the company also. Said information will be used to contact the relevant client regarding our state-of-the-art cyber security awareness platforms and e-learning modules, which in turn make staff more vigilant with their data protection approach – keeping your companies' data safe and less likely to be part of a data breach.
