Description

Describe the confusion with your trademark. For more information see our Trademark Policy. Jobcentre Plus is the UK government agency responsible for helping the unemployed find work, and payment of social security/welfare benefits (UK equivalent to US Department of Labor). Each of our 750 Jobcentres has a local Twitter account to promote vacancies and initiatives to the unemployed (such as @boltonjcp).

The @UKJCP account has been set up with deliberate and malicious intent to devalue and criticise the work of Jobcentre Plus. In addition, there are a number of rude and potentially libelous tweets aimed at UK government, elected politicians and the heads of large private sector organisations who are committed to working with government on reducing unemployment.
