Sec 24 P.A.C.E. 1984 Power of Arrest

The power to arrest is exercisable only if the constable has reasonable grounds for believing that for any of the reasons mentioned it is necessary to arrest the person in question. To satisfy the 'necessity' requirement, it is for the arresting officer to believe that the arrest of the person was necessary for one of the section 24(5) reasons; and that he had reasonable grounds for this belief.

Investigation - the investigation of the offence (or conduct of the person) needs to be prompt and effective.

Disappearance - the disappearance of the person (if not arrested) will hinder the prosecution.

Child - to protect a child or other vulnerable person from the person in question.

Obstruction - to prevent the person causing an unlawful obstruction of the highway.

Physical harm - to prevent physical harm being caused to any person

Public decency - to prevent the person committing an offence against public decency (but only if members of the public cannot be reasonably expected to avoid that person).

Loss or damage - to prevent the person from causing loss or damage to property.

Address - the address of the person cannot be ascertained or there are reasonable grounds to doubt the address given.

Name - the name of the person cannot be ascertained or there are reasonable grounds to doubt the name given.
