Dear Mr Black,

Re: Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 – Request for Information

Thank you for your email which was received by the University on 19 October 2009 timed 14:28 hours, requesting the following information:

I believe the University has appointed a new Principal.

Could you please let me know:

What is contained in the employment package including salary, health care, pension, annual leave, etc.

University's Response

Term of Office

The appointment is initially for a period of five years, from 1 October 2009 to 30 September 2014. Subject to a review by both parties not later than 1 April 2013, an extension of the term of the appointment may be agreed.

Accommodation

A private flat within the University campus is provided and the Principal is expected to reside there only during the working week.

Salary, Healthcare and Pension

The Principal's salary is currently £250,000 per annum. There are no private healthcare provisions for University staff. The Principal, as is the case with all Academic and Academic Related Staff, will automatically become a member of the Universities Superannuation Scheme (USS) unless he chooses to opt out.

Annual Leave

The annual entitlement is 28 days for a full year's service, 9 public holidays and 3 'other days'. This is the standard entitlement for all Management, Professional and Administrative (MPA) employees.

The supply of documents under the terms of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 does not give the applicant or whoever receives the information any right to re-use it in such a way that might infringe the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 (for example, by making multiple copies, publishing or otherwise distributing the information to other individuals and the public). The Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 (Consequential Modifications) Order 2004 ensured that Section 50 of the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 ("CDPA") applies to the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 ("FOISA").

Breach of copyright law is an actionable offence and the University expressly reserves its rights and remedies available to it pursuant to the CDPA and common law. Further information on copyright is available at the following website:
