Hi Paul,

Sorry I didn't make it into yours and Susan's event the other evening – I was tied up with visitors from Fukushima until after 5. I've been asked by Edinburgh Uni Social Responsibility and Sustainability department to take part in a debate on the relationship between social responsibility and academic freedom – apparently putting my name to our Guardian letter makes me an expert! Do you have definite evidence that the divestment decision has cost the University research funding?

Cheers, Rob
