Dear Mr Bennett-Murdoch

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION (SCOTLAND) ACT 2002

I refer to your recent request for information which has been handled in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.

I would ask that you disregard my letter to you dated 21 July as I was wrongly advised that Transport Scotland would deal with your request if we forwarded it to them. In addition, I am required to issue you with a formal response under the Act.

For ease of reference, your request is replicated below together with the response.

Q1. On A1 from England to Scotland there are no warning sign for a change in speed limits - why?

Q2. In the near future are there any plans to erect any signs to warn drivers (H.G.V) that the speed limit is lower.

Q3. How much would it cost to erect such signs.

Your request for information has now been considered and I can advise you that Police Scotland does not hold the requested information. In terms of Section 17 (1) (b) of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002, this letter represents a formal notice that information is not held.
