

Information Extracted from Representations

- enlargement/raised height of patio area is too great, and is too close to property boundaries causing overlooking/loss of privacy to neighbouring gardens.
- play structure is too large.
- play structure is too high in comparison to neighbouring fences.
- yellow slides in play structure are particularly visually intrusive.
- location of play structure affects privacy of neighbouring properties.
- children using play structure will overlook neighbouring gardens.