

BPA membership benefits

Lobbying and engagement

- Influencing the future direction of the parking profession by consistently engaging with government bodies and pushing for change to improve sector standards
- Representing the views of members, ensuring your voice is heard as part of the wider parking community
- Political monitoring and intelligence gathering to improve understanding of challenges facing our sector
- Consumer group engagement and public campaigning
- Member input to all consultation responses

Advice and support

- Dedicated sector specific account manager for one to one support, information and advice
- BPA Lawline, HR, PR and GDPR support lines, offering up to 30 minutes free expert advice for all members
- Access to in-house and wider membership technical expertise

Raising standards & changing perceptions

- Raising consumer confidence in parking standards
- Shaping the direction of the sector through our Parking 20:20 Report and other initiatives
- Supporting a change in the conversation around parking through the Positive Parking Agenda
- Leading the global Alliance for Parking Data Standards with the European Parking Association and the International Parking Institute (USA)
- Helping with improvements in air quality, the reduction of emissions and the development of sustainable practices
- Supporting the adoption of connected and autonomous vehicles and the use of alternative fuels, such as electric vehicles
- Promoting the adoption of common standards and best practice

BPA

As a not-for-profit organisation, we actively represent you and promote the sector by advancing knowledge, raising standards and driving professionalism.

BPA membership benefits

Networking

- Connecting you and your organisation with other members and the wider parking community, in person or online, to ask questions and share solutions
- Choose from more than 70 member-led meetings and events across the UK every year, including a wide range of interest, national and regional groups
- Attend our flagship event, Parkex, the biggest parking show in Europe, or join the parking profession's most influential leaders at the BPA Annual Conference
- Meet up with pan-European colleagues at our forums and groups

Developing professionals

- Providing individuals with learning support and advice to maximise career opportunities within parking
- Advice and guidance on parking qualifications, career progression and development opportunities

- Continuous professional development tools and resources available to all members
- Opportunities to stand for election to the Association's influential Council of Representatives and Boards

Advancing knowledge

- Members only website section with access to our knowledge bank and library resources
- Opportunities to contribute and publish papers and articles
- Press monitoring and responding to parking related coverage
- Access to information about new and emerging innovations in technology
- Connect with the wider membership to share market information and user experience
- Participate in research into consumer behaviour and opinions
- Receive regular e-newsletters and Parking News magazine

To discuss how BPA membership could help you please contact
@..uk