Dear Stuart Bowbanks,

Freedom of Information Request - RFI20220516

Thank you for your request to the BBC of 17 April 2022 seeking the following information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 ('the Act'):

“Between 1992-1996 I appeared on the Kilroy show as Alex Dupre. I’m pretty certain the show title was “Older women, younger men” at the time I was escorting. I never saw the episode at the time but would love to see it now. I hope you can help me trace the episode.”

We are withholding this information under section 40(1) (personal information) of the FOI Act. Information is exempt by virtue of section 40 if it constitutes personal data of which the requestor is the data subject and disclosure would contravene any of the principles in the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). Any disclosure made by virtue of the Freedom of Information Act is regarded as a public disclosure and not a disclosure to an individual. Disclosure of this information would breach the principle to only process personal data lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner.

You can, however, request a copy of a programme you have featured in by completing a Contributor Access Request form. This can be found by accessing the following link:-

Appeal Rights

If you are not satisfied that we have complied with the Act in responding to your request, you have the right to an internal review by a BBC senior manager or legal adviser. Please contact us at the address above, explaining what you would like us to review and including your reference number. A request for an internal review must be made within 40 working days of receiving the BBC’s response to your original request.

If you are not satisfied with the internal review, you can appeal to the Information Commissioner. The contact details are: Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire, SK9 5AF, Tel: 0303 123 1113 or see <https://ico.org.uk/>.

Yours sincerely
