Notes:

- Applications for Undergraduate study at Oxford from:
  - UCAS Cycle 2023 - for entry in 2023 or deferred entry in 2024
  - UCAS Cycle 2022 - for entry in 2022 or deferred entry in 2023
  - UCAS Cycle 2021 - for entry in 2021 or deferred entry in 2022
- This data shows applicants to Oxford Undergraduate courses made through UCAS. Astrophoria Foundation Year Candidates are not included in this data.
- Applicants may change course during the application process. The course shown here reflects the most recent course on record.
- Applications are shown for the college initially applied to (or allocated to in the case of open applications). Offers are shown for the college making an offer. This can be different to the college initially applied to (or allocated to) as candidates can be reallocated to other colleges to ensure that the best applicants stand the best chance of gaining an offer. Final Accepts are shown for the college at which the candidate accepted their offer to study at Oxford University. This may differ from Offer College in the case of open offer holders.
- Further details can be found here: <https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/colleges/do-you-choose-a-college?wssl=1>
- Final acceptance takes place when a candidate satisfies the conditions of their offer and firmly accepts their place to begin study at Oxford. Please note that a small number of candidates with final accepts may not go on to enrol at Oxford due to late withdrawal or deferral.
- Data are restricted to Law with German Law course only.

We have redacted where there were fewer than three offers and acceptances as we consider that disclosure of this information might enable those with access to other information or knowledge to identify individuals and learn new information about those individuals.

In taking this measure, we are applying the exemption in section 40(2) of the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). Section 40(2) provides an exemption from disclosure for information that is the personal data of an individual other than the requester, where disclosure would breach any of the data protection principles in Article 5 of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). We consider that disclosure of this information would breach the first data protection principle, which requires that personal data is processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner. Disclosure would be unfair to the individuals concerned, as it would be contrary to their reasonable and legitimate expectations. They would not reasonably expect that information about their application to Oxford would be made public under the FOIA without their consent.

For the disclosure of personal data to be lawful, it must have a lawful basis under Article 6 of the GDPR. There are six possible lawful bases in Article 6; we do not consider that any of them would be satisfied in respect of the disclosure.
