Dear Jessie Cai

Freedom of information request

Thank you for your email of 26 September requesting information about postgraduate admissions for 2020-2021.

The University of Edinburgh is a global university, rooted in Scotland. We are globally recognised for our research, development and innovation and we have provided world-class teaching to our students for more than 425 years. We are the largest university in Scotland and in 2018/19 our annual revenue was £1.1 billion, of which £286 million was research income. We have over 43,000 students and almost 16,000 staff. We are a founding member of the UK's Russell Group of leading research universities and a member of the League of European Research Universities.

In 2019/20 the University had 17,725 taught and research postgraduate students studying full-time and part-time. We are committed to providing a wealth of resources and opportunities to enable our postgraduates to benefit from our inspiring research culture. Our academics are leaders in their fields and the University is also committed to delivering high-quality, innovative teaching. The latest report from the Quality Assurance Agency awarded us the highest rating possible for the quality of the student learning experience. More information on our postgraduate degree programmes is available on our website.

2020 Masters admissions statistics

You asked for a breakdown of admissions statistics for postgraduate degree programmes offered by the University for the 2020 admission cycle to include the number of applicants and offers made to each programme. You also asked for the number of Chinese student applications and offers made to all postgraduate programmes for the academic year 2020/21. I have interpreted your request as relating to those applicants holding Chinese nationality or domiciled in that country. However, please let us know if you would prefer information broken down into the two categories. The two groups are likely to be largely the same, although it is possible that an applicant may be domiciled in the People's Republic of China but not be of Chinese nationality or be of Chinese nationality but not domiciled in the People's Republic of China.

Information about each postgraduate programme offered by the University in the 2020/21 academic year is contained within the University's Degree Regulations and Programmes of Study, published on our website. I have provided the information in relation to postgraduate taught programmes applications and offers for the academic year 2020/21 in table 1 the enclosure.

While we hold the information you have requested for Chinese applicants at programme level, I cannot provide this to you as many of the numbers are low and disclosure could enable individuals to be identified. I have therefore provided information about Chinese applicants and offer holders by School for the academic year 2020/21 in table 2 on the enclosure. Information about the University's schools and the programmes they offer is published on our website. In tables 1 and 2 I have also not provided the exact number where the number is fewer than five as again disclosing these low numbers could enable individuals to be identified.

Providing admissions statistics for Chinese applicants at programme level could enable students from PRC and ethnically Chinese students from other countries to be identified. This would breach the data protection principles set out in data protection legislation. The Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 (FOISA) does not require us to provide this sort of information as it is exempt under section 38(1)(b). Under data protection law, information about ethnicity is considered to be special category personal data. This means that this information about individuals is regarded as sensitive and therefore needs more protection. The University is also required to be 'applicant blind' when responding to requests under FOISA; that is to say that it does not matter who makes the request, if we disclose information to one person we are expected to disclose it to all. While you may not be able to identify individuals from the information you have requested, others, for example other students on the programme and University staff, may be able to do so.

The figures in each table show applications rather than applicants; a single applicant can apply to numerous programmes in the same admissions cycle. The figures also show both conditional and unconditional offers.

Please note that that the number of offers does not equate to (and substantially overstates) the eventual number of students/entrants. Applicants need to accept or decline the offer and then meet the conditions of their offers and comply with immigration conditions before becoming students.

Right to review

If you are dissatisfied with this response, you may ask the University to conduct a review of this decision by contacting the University's Records Management Section in writing (e.g. by letter or email) or in some other recorded form (e.g. audio or video tape). You should describe the original request, explain your grounds for dissatisfaction, and include an address for correspondence. You have 40 working days from receipt of this letter to submit a review request. The contact details for the Records Management Section are at the top of this letter. When the review process has been completed, if you are still dissatisfied, you may use the Scottish Information Commissioner's guidance on making an appeal to make an appeal to the Commissioner. If you do not have access to the Internet, please let me know and I will provide a copy of the relevant web pages.

Privacy notice for information request applicants

The University of Edinburgh's request privacy notice, which describes how we use the information you have supplied about yourself and your request, is published on the University website.

Yours sincerely

Mark Hepworth
Information Compliance Officer
