Good Morning Cllrs,

Just a quick email to let you know our plantation thinning programme will be starting in Redshank week commencing the 6th of November.

Our contractor will inspect the site to carry out an inspection on potential bird nesting prior to starting the works, hopefully we should find that nesting activity has subsided given the time of year which will allow us to carry out all of the required works, however I must point out that if we do find nesting birds we must proceed with caution maintaining a min 5m clear zone from any potential or active nests.

Following completion of the plantation works we will also be planting wildflower bulbs.

I will also be extending this notification to [REDACTED] as the works will be taking place near to their property in Martin Court.

I have attached a briefing note about plantation thinning works for information.

Kind regards
