Dear Mr Johnson,

I work as an NHS Medical Consultant in a busy central London teaching hospital. I have recently started to commute to work on a scooter which is in keeping with what we are being encouraged to do for a greener London and enables me to get to various hospital sites quickly.

On Friday I was nearly killed by a number 73 'bendy bus' swerving across 3 lanes of traffic around Grosvenor Place W1. I understand that one of your mayoral promises was to get rid of these vehicles which pose a significant hazard to other road users especially cyclists and motorcycle users. I am writing to enquire when this will happen and to bring your attention to my near death last week.

I look forward to hearing from you. 0 1

Yours sincerely,

PP
