Dear Mr Ellard,

RE: Freedom of Information request

Thank you for your email making a request under the Freedom of Information Act.

The CCG has not put in any funds for this project.

£60,000 was provided by Job Centre Plus, as a grant to the Islington Council who then ran a procurement process to appoint a provider (Remploy). The council is also making in-kind contributions of £38,000, through project management (and with plans for an iWork coach to work on the project).

Please note that information that we provide in response to freedom of information requests is subject to copyright owned by CCG. You are free to use any information supplied for your own use, including for non-commercial research purposes, and news reporting. However, any other type of re-use, for example, by publishing the information or issuing copies to the public will require the permission of the copyright owner. You may not use it in a manner that implies an endorsement by Islington CCG or the wider health and social care system it is part of. If you do reuse this information, we would be grateful if you would attribute the CCG as its source.

In line with data protection legislation we require that any personal details or contact information are not used for direct marketing or sales purposes; and that they are not passed on to third parties for these purposes

As part of our commitment to openness and accessibility we will include your request in our log of freedom of information requests. This will be published on our website. Your personal or contact details will not be included. We may also publish any information that we send to you as part of our publication scheme.

If you are dissatisfied with this response please let me know and I will ask a senior manager to review our handling of your request under the CCG's complaints policy. If you remain dissatisfied after that you should contact the Information Commissioner, who administers the Freedom of Information Act. His contact details are:
