Dear Mr Price,

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION REQUEST REFERENCE NO: 299.2015-16 Internal Review

I write in connection with your email dated 16 June 2016.

Dear North Yorkshire Police,

To clarify, I made an error once calling Emma Morris, Emma Lewis. The request should have read Internal Review request for 299.2015-16.

You have not answered this in compliance with the Act. Please confirm that Emma Morris was in fact in breach of the time limits given by law.

Furthermore Emma Morris completely failed to respond on several occasions, which you do not mention. You appear to make excuses for her, which is not your duty as reviewer of a FOI request.

An internal review into your original request 299.2015-16 has been completed and an explanation was provided to you on the 20 May 2016 as to why there was a delay in your response. Emma Morris further explained this in her own letter to you, also dated 20 May 2016. In review of your comments above, I am unable to provide any further information in addition to what you have already received.

If you are still dissatisfied with the decision, you may wish to make an application to the Information Commissioner.

Please note that an internal review looks into your Freedom of Information request and the response you received, not other communications that you may have had separately with an individual as these matters are dealt with separately. If you have been dissatisfied with the communication you had with Emma Morris then you will need to write to our Head of Service.

Yours sincerely
