Dear Mr Smith

Thank you for your email of 13 April 2011 (19:01).

The Mental Health Tribunal for Scotland (the Tribunal) is not subject to the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002. Nevertheless the Tribunal is happy to provide information in appropriate circumstances where it is able to do so.

You ask for the names of the Tribunal's legal, medical and general members. Names of the Tribunal's members can be found on the Tribunal's website. Go to "About the Tribunal", then select "Panel Members" and there you will find three PDF documents containing the names of the Tribunal's legal, medical and general members. I attach this link for your convenience:

http://www.mhtscotland.gov.uk/mhts/About_Tribunal/Panel_Members.

You ask for details of the number of tribunals each member has sat on in each financial year. The Tribunal does not collate this data.

Yours sincerely
