Dear Mr Pearsall

Thank you for your email correspondence of 28 April and 3 May in which you ask for email addresses for UK Border Agency divisions/reporting centres, other than those which you are already aware of. You specifically requested the email addresses of the Solihull or West Midlands division. Your request has been handled as a request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

We have considered your request and we believe it to be vexatious. Section 14(1) of the Act provides that the Home Office is not obliged to comply with a request for information of this nature. We have carefully considered your request but have decided that your request is vexatious because it could be:

- 1) considered as having the potential to create a significant burden in terms of expense and distraction;
- 2) designed to cause disruption or annoyance;
- 3) have the effect of harassing the public authority or its staff;
- 4) characterised as obsessive or manifestly unreasonable; and
- 5) questionable as to whether it has any serious purpose or value.

If you are dissatisfied with this response you may request an independent internal review of our handling of your request by submitting a complaint within two months to the address below, quoting reference FOI 27448. If you ask for an internal review, it would be helpful if you could say why you are dissatisfied with the response.

As part of any internal review the Department's handling of your information request will be reassessed by staff who were not involved in providing you with this response. If you remain dissatisfied after this internal review, you would have a right of complaint to the Information Commissioner as established by section 50 of the Freedom of Information Act.

Yours sincerely
