 - (i) instruct the Supplier to comply with the Rectification Plan Process;
 - (ii) suspend this Call Off Contract (whereupon the relevant provisions of Clause 45 (Partial Termination, Suspension and Partial Suspension) shall apply) and step-in to itself supply or procure a third party to supply (in whole or in part) the Services;

39.1.2 Where the Customer exercises any of its step-in rights under Clauses 39.1.1(c)(ii) or 39.1.1(c)(iii), the Customer shall have the right to charge the Supplier for and the Supplier shall on demand pay any costs reasonably incurred by the Customer (including any reasonable administration costs) in respect of the supply of any part of the Services by the Customer or a third party and provided that the Customer uses its reasonable endeavours to mitigate any additional expenditure in obtaining Services.

If the Parties do not agree on the root cause set out in the draft Rectification Plan, either Party may refer the matter to be determined by an expert in accordance with paragraph Error! Reference source not found. of this Call Off Schedule 11 (Dispute Resolution Procedure).

39.2.3 The Customer may reject the draft Rectification Plan by notice to the Supplier if, acting reasonably, it considers that the draft Rectification Plan is inadequate, for example because the draft Rectification Plan:

- (a) is insufficiently detailed to be capable of proper evaluation;
- (b) will take too long to complete;

- (c) will not prevent reoccurrence of the Default; and/or
 - (d) will rectify the Default but in a manner which is unacceptable to the Customer.
- 39.2.4 The Customer shall notify the Supplier whether it consents to the draft Rectification Plan as soon as reasonably practicable. If the Customer rejects the draft Rectification Plan, the Customer shall give reasons for its decision and the Supplier shall take the reasons into account in the preparation of a revised Rectification Plan. The Supplier shall submit the revised draft of the Rectification Plan to the Customer for review within five (5) Working Days (or such other period as agreed between the Parties) of the Customer's notice rejecting the first draft.

 - (i) the Milestone Date shall be postponed by a period equal to the period of Delay that the Supplier can demonstrate was caused by the Customer Cause;
 - (ii) if the Customer, acting reasonably, considers it appropriate, the Project Plan shall be amended to reflect any consequential revisions required to subsequent Milestone Dates resulting from the Customer Cause;

- (d) Not used.

40.2 In order to claim any of the rights and/or relief referred to in Clause 40.1, the Supplier shall:

40.4 Without prejudice to Clauses 8.6 (Continuing obligation to provide the Services, if a Dispute arises as to:

40.4.1 whether a Supplier Non-Performance would not have occurred but for a Customer Cause; and/or either Party may refer the Dispute to the Dispute Resolution Procedure. Pending the resolution of the Dispute, both Parties shall continue to resolve the causes of, and mitigate the effects of, the Supplier Non-Performance.

40.5 Any Variation that is required to the Project Plan or to the Call Off Contract Charges pursuant to Clause 40 shall be implemented in accordance with the Variation Procedure.

Any failure or delay by the Supplier in performing its obligations under this Call Off Contract which results from a failure or delay by an agent, Sub-Contractor or supplier shall be regarded as due to a Force Majeure Event only if that agent, Sub-Contractor or supplier is itself impeded by a Force Majeure Event from complying with an obligation to the Supplier.

41.2 The Affected Party shall as soon as reasonably practicable issue a Force Majeure Notice, which shall include details of the Force Majeure Event, its effect on the obligations of the Affected Party and any action the Affected Party proposes to take to mitigate its effect.

41.3.1 are capable of being mitigated by any of the provision of any Services, including any BCDR Services, but the Supplier has failed to do so; and/or 41.3.2 should have been foreseen and prevented or avoided by a prudent provider of Services similar to the Services, operating to the standards required by this Call Off Contract.

41.4 Subject to Clause 41.5, as soon as practicable after the Affected Party issues the Force Majeure Notice, and at regular intervals thereafter, the Parties shall consult in good faith and use reasonable endeavours to agree any steps to be taken and an appropriate timetable in which those steps should be taken, to enable continued provision of the Services affected by the Force Majeure Event.

41.5 The Parties shall at all times following the occurrence of a Force Majeure Event and during its subsistence use their respective reasonable endeavours to prevent and mitigate the effects of the Force Majeure Event. Where the Supplier is the Affected Party, it shall take all steps in accordance with Good Industry Practice to overcome or minimise the consequences of the Force Majeure Event.

- (b) the Supplier shall be entitled to receive payment of the Call Off Contract Charges (or a proportional payment of them) only to the extent that the Services (or part of the Services) continue to be provided in accordance with the terms of this Call Off Contract during the occurrence of the Force Majeure Event.

41.7 The Affected Party shall notify the other Party as soon as practicable after the Force Majeure Event ceases or no longer causes the Affected Party to be unable to comply with its obligations under this Call Off Contract.

41.8 Relief from liability for the Affected Party under Clause 41 shall end as soon as the Force Majeure Event no longer causes the Affected Party to be unable to comply with its obligations under this Call Off Contract and shall not be dependent on the serving of notice under Clause 41.7.

CALL OFF SCHEDULE 2: SERVICES

1. INTRODUCTION & PURPOSE

In April 2018, Prime Minister May and Prime Minister Modi announced a UK-India Tech Partnership to drive growth and prosperity. Up to £13m of Prosperity Funding was ring-fenced to deliver this partnership.

DCMS and FCO have been granted Prosperity funding to conduct a robust scoping exercise to develop the business case to unlock the £13m funding. The scoping exercise will entail in-depth research and analysis of the India ecosystem, through intelligence gathering, scoping trips and opportunity mapping. The funding will also allow DCMS and FCO with DIT and BEIS, and the consultant engaged, to facilitate engagement activities with numerous stakeholders, including businesses and regional authorities in the UK and India, to further understand the ecosystem and potential opportunities to enable primary benefits of inclusive growth in India and secondary benefit of potential growth for UK and international companies.

The cross-government Prosperity Fund (PF) was created in 2015 to promote sustainable economic growth by supporting necessary reforms in recipient countries in line with OECD Official Development Assistance Committee rules. As well as providing development assistance to contribute to a reduction in poverty in recipient countries, these reforms are expected to create opportunities for international businesses, including UK companies. The key aims of the PF are to provide expertise and technical assistance to partner countries to improve the business climate; reduce barriers to trade, investment and economic growth; and support necessary reforms. These initiatives will encourage sustainable economic growth in Middle Income Countries and create opportunities for international businesses, including UK companies.

PURPOSE:

Thriving local digital ecosystems are key to providing the services, content and technology necessary to build on activity targeting digital connectivity, as well as providing high value jobs and growth opportunities. A country can best reap digital dividends when it has a thriving and growing local ecosystem of innovative companies, particularly start-ups and SMEs, to provide digital services and take advantage of new opportunities – including creating high value and highly skilled jobs – and grow by partnering with established global companies.

Support interventions to enhance lower end digital skills and literacy and to develop the local tech sector (through training, mentoring, advice and related support) can enhance the growth of local firms and increase relevant products and services for both local populations and international markets.

We have identified three interventions which we believe support the above:

1. a UK-India Tech Hub
2. UK-India Cluster Partnerships across the UK and India
3. a UK India Artificial Intelligence Healthcare pilot

1. UK-India Tech Hub

The first potential intervention is the tech hub concept, an intervention that has been implemented successfully in the UK Embassy in Israel via the UK-Israel Tech Hub¹, and which is currently being rolled out in five new locations², in addition to the proposed hub in India. The Tech Hub is a flexible model which is tailorable to its context, and which could, for example, be formed of a central team based in the UK High Commission in Delhi, comprising experts from India's Tech Sector. The aim of the Hub would be to build sustainable digital ecosystems across India through tailored interventions to cultivate digital skills and entrepreneurship, ensuring the benefits of technology are used to improve the lives of poor and marginalised groups and to support social inclusion and poverty reduction. The hub will support Indian entrepreneurship and innovation as a path to employment and financial prosperity in places with limited job opportunities, and address under-representation of women in the digital sector.

2. UK-India Cluster Partnerships

The second potential intervention is two pilot Tech Cluster Partnerships linking developing centres of excellence in India with UK regional strengths. These will focus on areas such as AI and Data, Digital Manufacturing, and Ageing and Health, enabling shared innovation and technology exchange; allowing innovative start-ups to work together and commercialise faster to promote growth and create jobs in support of Modi's Make in India, Start-up India and Digital India initiatives. The Partnerships will support the UK's Industrial Strategy and devolution aims as well as helping British and Indian companies to access respective markets. In accordance with ODA rules, the programme will not privilege UK companies in delivery or activities. However, we expect UK businesses to benefit disproportionately from target country GDP growth and expanding digital markets, given the UK's competitive advantage in our focus sectors.

3. UK India Artificial Intelligence Healthcare pilot

The third intervention is an AI Healthcare Pilot to deploy a range of AI healthcare diagnostic solutions to support the delivery of India's national healthcare programme and enhance patient outcomes. As partners in the next generation of healthcare, the UK and India will work together on digital health pilots in India's Aspirational Districts. These solutions range from providing primary or self-care capabilities to niche secondary and tertiary areas such as eyecare, diabetes and cancer. The pilot should support the opening of a market in India for AI healthcare diagnostics, estimated to be worth up to £50m.

2. SCOPE OF REQUIREMENT

General Requirements:

The Supplier will need to develop, draft and complete strategic and economic cases for technological interventions in India, including economic cost/benefit analyses of potential impacts of the UK-India Tech Hub; the Cluster Partnerships and the AI Healthcare Pilot. The outputs developed by the Supplier will inform the development of a business case supporting these interventions outlining a case for technological interventions in India.

² This is also as part of a Prosperity-funded programme, the Digital Access Programme

This business case however will be developed by the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS), in collaboration with FCO (India) and DIT (India) and with the support of BEIS.

Full details of the potential programme plans to date and appropriate documents including examples of other business cases will be shared with the successful bidder.

The strategic case will need to provide analysis of the potential of technological intervention and technology innovation and diffusion in India as a means for facilitating inclusive economic development. The Supplier is encouraged to think broadly to assist the development of interventions that will deliver pro-poor, impactful interventions suitable for the Indian context but we will require that they explore the three interventions listed above. The economic case needs to appraise these options and justify the recommendations with robust evidence by including cost/benefit analyses. In doing so, the strategic and economic cases will need to carry out the work set out in the Specific Requirements below.

- Both strategic and economic cases need to be in line with the HMT Green Book³ guidance, HMT Magenta Book⁴ guidance, HMT Aqua Book⁵ guidance, and meet Prosperity Fund objectives. It must be compliant with the International Development Act 2002 (including the International Gender Equality Act 2014), OECD Development Assistance Committee roles on ODA and should be based on meeting the needs of host countries with consideration for political will.
- The recommended interventions under the UK-India Tech Partnership need to be in line with the Prosperity Fund Theory of Change. Before providing a recommendation for specific interventions, all the considered options in the strategic and economic cases need to be assessed against the criteria outlined below. While we are open to changes to the originally submitted TOC all changes will need to be justified against evidence gathered during the scoping phase.
- The Supplier will be required to work with HMG Partners (specifically DCMS, FCO and DIT and BEIS), and including the UK High Commission in India.
- There will be a significant stakeholder engagement component, including with businesses and regional authorities in the UK and India. This will be conducted in close collaboration with officers in the British High Commission in India including an appointed India Tech Hub Scoping Manager, as well as a dedicated Hub Lead in DCMS and colleagues across Whitehall. In addition, close working will be required with the successful bidder for the scoping and development of the UK-India Cluster Partnerships, with the objective of submitting the economic and strategic cases for the tech hub, cluster partnerships and AI Healthcare pilot as one business case. Some international travel may be required, but where possible, consultation will be conducted via audio and video conferences.
- The Supplier will be responsible for revising the economic analysis and the strategic and economic cases during the Prosperity Fund and DCMS, and Whitehall assurance processes. The liability of the Supplier will only end once the final economic and strategic assessment report and final economic case has been approved by the Project Board.

³<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/the-green-book-appraisal-and-evaluation-in-central-government>

⁴ <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/the-magenta-book>

- The Supplier must have an expert on board who will be part of the project to develop the methodology to appraise these interventions aimed at inclusive economic growth. The expert should have expertise in digital and tech innovation and trade/markets and issues relating to barriers to inclusive economic growth in India. In addition, the consultant should be expected to have another expert on board who is not part of the project to challenge the methodology and analysis. The way the work is challenged should be auditable.

Specific Requirements

Strategic Case

- A preliminary assessment has identified a number of priority areas relating to pro-poor digital and tech interventions that will facilitate inclusive economic growth. The Supplier will need to take this work forward and provide an initial thematic prioritisation exercise based on assessment criteria provided (strategic fit, outcome, likely impact and value for money). This will be followed by an in-depth assessment of a shortlist of priority barriers to inclusive economic growth in India relating to Tech/ digital inclusion, likely to include, but not limited to, disability, unemployment/underemployment, caste, gender, rural poverty, financial inclusion, and healthcare.
- The broad areas of focus need not be limited to those outlined above. The strategic case will need to explain why the Prosperity Fund should invest resources in digital and tech interventions in India, and the best way to achieve the desired outcomes. To explain this, the strategic case will need to answer a number of questions, including the following:
 - I. What opportunities are available, and barriers are there for leveraging tech and digital interventions for poverty reduction in India? What would the benefits be for leveraging these benefits? How would these benefits translate to the Prosperity Fund's objectives of poverty reduction and gender equality - considering the International Development Gender Equality Act 2014. The strategic case needs to provide the theory of change and the causal chains with robust evidence.
 - II. What is the existing evidence on the typical size of these benefits? How do these compare to the typical size of benefits resulting from using similar initiatives as interventions? Particular attention should be paid to the broad benefit areas of the proposed interventions including (a) skills, (b) digital and tech ecosystem development (for startups/scale-ups) (c) business to business innovation partnerships (d) enhancing Ease of Doing Business (e) clean and sustainable growth. What is the evidence from India and elsewhere on the potential to address these barriers and use these opportunities to support inclusive and sustainable growth and poverty reduction?
 - III. What is the level of need to use digital and tech opportunities for inclusive growth and poverty reduction? How does the level of connectivity, affordability, relevance and readiness and governance/regulation influence this?
 - IV. Given the Indian context and the opportunities available/barriers in place to realising the benefits of digital for poverty reduction, what should the objectives and key activities of these interventions be?

- V. What other activities are taking place in tech, digital skills/digital ecosystem building/digital innovation partnerships in India? Are there interventions similar to these in place? An in-depth stakeholder mapping will need to be carried out to understand the activities that other donors, such as World Bank, USAID, OECD European Union etc and other countries themselves are undertaking, as well as any privately funded initiatives.
- VI. Based on above points (I to V), what is the rationale for UK interventions in digital and tech ecosystem building, digital skills and digital innovation partnerships in India? What additional benefits would be achieved by UK interventions in India?
- VII. What is the UK's trading/innovation relationship/prospects with India in these sectors? To what extent will addressing these barriers improve trade flows with the UK? What other secondary benefits could UK achieve?

Economic Case

- The economic case needs to assess a short-list of interventions and recommend which the programme should take forward. A value for money assessment needs to be carried out based on a robust cost/benefit analysis.
- The Supplier will need to evaluate whether the framework provided in Annex A could be used to assess the intervention options or alternative framework needs to be developed and used for a robust assessment.
- Both primary and secondary benefits need to be appraised. As shown in Annex A, the primary benefits are inclusive, sustainable economic growth and poverty reduction in India and gender equality. The secondary benefits are increased UK-India trade, investments, and tech collaboration.
- The economic analyses need to take account of the following internal FCO guidance on appraisal and economic cases:
 - Impact rate - to reflect that it will take time for the interventions to realise their full impact.
 - Sustainability rate - to reflect that the impact of trade facilitation reforms could diminish over time.
 - Success / risk rate - to reflect the possibility that not all interventions in all countries may be successful.
 - Attribution rate - to reflect the contribution of wider effort and costs beyond the investment in the realisation of the estimated benefits.
 - Additionally - The interventions could be undertaken anyway e.g. by country governments or other bilateral/multilateral donor ; in which case the investment would not be additional or its benefits more marginal.

These factors need to be evidenced appropriately.

- The economic case needs to provide sensitivity analyses for all the key assumptions.

- The economic case needs to provide a sense-check of the estimated benefits or cost/benefit ratio using evidence from literature or other similar studies / analyses.
- The economic case needs to use scenario modelling to account for post-Brexit uncertainty regarding UK's relationship with Middle Income Countries.

Deliverables

- An economic assessment report with a detailed cost/benefits analysis (as outlined in section 3) needs to be completed. The report needs to clearly outline the methodology and the assessment that has been carried out. It should also provide recommendations for digital and tech intervention.
- The report should include the following: (a) robust analysis and recommendations supporting the potential primary & secondary benefits of the proposed interventions (Stage One); (b) identification of key stakeholders and beneficiaries (Stage One); (c) outline of the potential approach to delivery and key potential delivery partners identified (Stage Two).
- Working closely with DCMS and other Whitehall departments, the consultant will also be expected to support the delivery of a series of workshops with beneficiaries and stakeholders, including businesses in both India and the UK, helping to ensure a thorough and inclusive scoping process.
- The Supplier will also need to provide an independent peer review report of the accuracy of the data sources, formulae, spreadsheets and calculations. This will need to be submitted with the final report. The economic model should score well using BEIS' Model QA template.
- The Supplier will be expected to provide a presentation to the Project Board at each stage to justify delivery and progression to next stage. The Project Board will meet once per fortnight or more frequently whenever required.
- A report will be produced by the Supplier at the end of each of stage – see 'Milestones' below.
- There will be a breakpoint at the end of stage (2), in which quality of outputs and progress will be reviewed, before deciding move forward with the rest of the project.
- The final economic assessment report should contain an Executive Summary which should not be more than 7 pages.
- The final economic assessment report should also contain a summary of table of values which should not be more than 10 pages.
- DCMS and partner departments reserve the right to publish part or the full report once it has received and accepted it, subject to the Prosperity Fund's broader communications plan.
- The Supplier may need to present the findings to wider XHMG audience within the contract period.
- Any material related to evidence reviews, methodologies, economic modelling, economic analysis and case studies will be handed over to DCMS and partner departments who will retain ownership.

- Milestones

- The economic and strategic case and economic analyses need to be completed and approved by the FCO/DCM/DIT/BEIS assurance processes within 3 months. An indicative timetable of the project is given below, which DCMS reserves the right to amend as necessary.
- There will be a breakpoint after stage 2 to evaluate the methodology of the economic analyses by the Project Board and the Prosperity Fund. Should concerns be raised by the Group, the project will only continue once these concerns are addressed. In the unfortunate event of concerns not being resolved to its satisfaction, DCMS and partner departments reserves the right to terminate the project at this point.
