

Generic Template

Before you complete this template, save this document in the folder which corresponds to this item's category (and subcategory, if appropriate), using this item's name as the file name.

Key:

Mandatory information

Optional information

 Field visible to users

KM Team Only – field used internally by KM team only – no field required in Knowledge Base

Category name*

Delivering Universal Credit

Sub-category*

Work Services

Content item name*

Setting work-related requirements

Alternative names (enter any other names that staff or public might use to refer to this item)

Summary*

How to set work-related requirements, including work search and work preparation activities, for a claimant in the All Work Related Requirements group (Intensive Work Search regime) during an interview

Content*

During every work search interview, the work coach (WC) identifies the things that affect the type of work a claimant is expected to look for and accept if offered.

The WC establishes the type, location, hours and pattern of work a claimant is expected to look for and be available for. Claimants are normally expected to look for any work that they are capable of doing that pays the National Minimum Wage (or above) and that is within 90 minutes travelling distance from their home. Claimants are normally expected to look for full time work.

For a lead carer of a child aged 3 or 4, travel to work should be proportionate to their expected hours of work up to a maximum of 60 minutes See 'Travel to work for lead carers of children aged 3 or 4' below.

Claimants in the All Work Related Requirements (AWRR) group, Intensive Work Search regime must normally be available to attend an interview and take up a job immediately.

Generic Template

A claimant's individual personal circumstances will determine the actual requirements set.

A full diagnosis of the claimant's circumstances and capacity for work helps determine:

- realistic job requirements
- required hours of availability
- availability for interview / to start work
- travel to work time
- work search requirements including mandatory job applications
- work availability requirements
- job interview requirements
- work preparation requirements
- any other work-related activities

These should be reviewed and updated throughout the claim.

Claimants must understand:

- their goal will be to get paid work, more work or better paid work as quickly as possible
- they will be expected to take up a full time job – a claimant is not required to take employment which requires them to work for more hours than the European Working Time Directive which is up to 48 hours per week (for claimants aged 18 and over) or 40 hours per week (for claimants aged 16/17 years)
- they should undertake work search and work preparation activity for up to a maximum of 35 hours a week – for claimants with agreed restrictions on their availability for work (below 35 hours per week), work search and work preparation requirements will be the same number of hours they are normally available for work (please note, a 'week' is defined as any 7 day period)
- the work search and work preparation activities must give them the best prospects of finding work quickly
- if without good reason they have not carried out their work-related requirements, their Universal Credit payments will be cut (these cuts are known as sanctions – the information about sanctions in the Claimant Commitment and the Commitment Pack should be shown to the claimant and explained to them)

Job requirements

If the claimant does not have a Permitted Period they are required to look for and take any job that they are capable of doing that pays the National Minimum Wage or above. However it can be helpful to record job requirements to focus effective work search for the claimant to identify a job or jobs that they are most suited to or most capable of doing.

Looking for any job, and accepting the first job offered, will help the claimant back into work as quickly as possible. Once the claimant is in paid work they can continue to look for their preferred job.

Generic Template

Claimants should have job expectations that are realistic and achievable. For each type of work the WC should explore the following with the claimant:

- capability for work – does the claimant have the relevant qualifications, experience, skills etc?
- capacity for work – for example, are there any health conditions, social issues or caring responsibilities that might make it difficult to find, obtain and retain the job in question
- wage expectations – for example, does the job requirement pay the wages that the claimant is looking for (the WC should explain how Universal Credit can help while in work, for example, childcare, housing support, and determine if the claimant understands how much the National Minimum Wage is)
- the local Labour Market – consideration must be given to what jobs are available within that area (if the work the claimant is looking for is not available within the claimant's travel to work area, the job requirement is not realistic)

Recording job requirements

The claimant's agreed job requirement(s) are recorded on the 'Job goals' section of the claimant's record.

To enter job goals for the claimant, the 'Active job goals' field is selected on the footer bar, then 'Add new job goal' is selected from the toolbar menu. This opens the 'Job goal' screen and the following fields are selected and completed:

- Job title or type (mandatory free text box)
- Claimant (already populated with the claimant's name)
- Rate of pay - optional
- Payment frequency - optional
- Minimum hours per week - optional
- Applies to Claimant Commitment during Permitted Period – leave blank unless the claimant is in the permitted period

The entry is saved by selecting 'Save and close' from the toolbar menu. The job goal(s) will then show in the 'Active job goals'.

Permitted Period

If a claimant has a strong work history the WC can allow them to limit their work-related requirements to look for work relating to a particular type of job and salary that they have recent experience of.

The WC must be satisfied that the claimant has reasonable prospects of getting a job that fits this limitation before agreeing to it. This is known as a Permitted Period and can apply for a period up to a maximum of 3 months.

Generic Template

The permitted period starts from either:

- the date of claim if the claimant moves straight to the AWRR group (Intensive Work Search regime), or
- if a claimant is placed in the No Work Related Requirements (NWRR) group (Working Enough regime) initially (based on their earnings being above the Conditionality Earnings Threshold) – the date they move to the AWRR group (Intensive Work Search regime) following a drop in earnings

Any Permitted Period agreed runs continuously and is not broken by any periods of work. After this period, the claimant is required to look for any work they can do of at least the National Minimum Wage.

See Permitted Period - considering and recording and Permitted Period - reviewing and updating.

Recording a Permitted Period

Claimants in the Permitted Period must have a job requirement recorded showing the particular type of job they wish to look for, or rate of pay.

To record a Permitted Period the WC:

1. Selects 'Job goals'.
2. Enters the job title or type.
3. Enters the rate of pay if provided by the claimant.
4. Selects the 'Applies to the claimant during Permitted Period' field.

Availability

After gathering all the relevant information regarding the claimant's circumstances, the WC determines the number of hours the claimant is required to be available for work. They must usually have reasonable prospects of finding paid work, more work or better paid work. See Availability and hours of work search overview.

A claimant is normally expected to be available for full-time work (full time should take its natural meaning and applies to the hours deemed as 'full-time' for a particular job type), but consideration must be given to the claimant's circumstances to identify whether any limitations on their hours or pattern of availability should be applied. In particular, adjustments must be applied if a claimant has childcare responsibilities.

Lead carers of children:

Generic Template

- aged 3 or 4 are expected to be available for up to a maximum of 16 hours per week
- aged 5 to 12 are expected to be available for up to a maximum of 25 hours per week
- aged 13 and older are expected to be available for up to 35 hours per week

A lower number of hours may be agreed taking into account the claimant's circumstances. See Diagnosis of claimant capability and circumstances.

For further information on setting requirements for lead carers of children, see Safeguarding and support for lead carers – case studies.

Recording availability

The claimant's availability for work and any agreed restrictions are recorded on the 'Finding and taking work' section of their Claimant Commitment

When recording the claimant's availability, see Setting availability on the Work Services Platform.

Availability to start work and attend a job interview

A claimant in the AWRR group (Intensive Work Search regime) must be willing and able to start work and attend a job interview immediately unless the WC is satisfied that they require a longer period because they:

- are undertaking voluntary work - if the WC is satisfied that the claimant needs a longer period because they are undertaking voluntary work, they can agree that the claimant is able to take up employment on being given up to one week's notice and / or attend a job interview with up to 48 hour's notice
- have caring responsibilities – if the WC is satisfied that the claimant needs a longer period because they are a nominated responsible carer or relevant carer for a child or disabled person, they can agree that the claimant is able to take up employment on being given up to one month's notice and / or attend a job interview with 48 hours' notice
- are employed under a contract of service – claimants who are required to give notice must be willing and able to take up employment immediately following the statutory or contracted period of notice they are required to give their employer to end the contract of employment and attend a job interview with 48 hours' notice

Recording availability to start work and attend a job interview

The claimant's availability to start work and attend a job interview is recorded on the 'Availability' section of the claimant's record.

The claimant's availability to attend an interview is recorded by selecting the drop-down list in the 'Availability for interview' field and selecting either:

Generic Template

- Immediately
- Within 48 hours

The claimant's availability to start work is recorded by selecting the drop-down list in the 'Available to start work' field and selecting either:

- Immediately
- Within 7 days
- Within one month
- From

If 'From' is selected, the 'Available to start work date' field will appear.

The earliest possible date by which the claimant can start work is recorded from information provided by the claimant. This option is used when the claimant is not available to start work within one month, for example if the claimant has broken a limb and the cast is to be removed on a specific date. If 'From' is used, a specific task should be set to review this or a Work Search Interview booked to discuss further and consider the effect in the Claimant Commitment.

Travel to work time

A claimant must be willing to travel 90 minutes each way to work, by a route and means of transport appropriate to their circumstances (for example, by car for some, public transport for others or walking etc.). Limitations can be agreed due to health conditions or caring responsibilities if this means that a shorter distance is necessary.

A claimant's travel to work time is recorded on the 'Availability' section of the claimant's record and is entered by selecting the drop-down list in the 'Travel time in minutes' field and then selecting the appropriate time. This will default to 90 minutes but can be changed if limitations have been agreed.

Travel to work for lead carers of children aged 3 or 4

Travel to work for lead carers of children aged 3 or 4 should be proportionate to their expected hours of work. For these claimants, the travel to work time is capped at the following:

- up to 10 hours expected hours of work per week – capped at 30 minutes
- 10 to 16 hours expected hours of work per week – capped at 60 minutes

Claimants will not be asked to travel longer than this and depending on their circumstances, including childcare arrangements, and proportionate to the hours of work they can do, they may be required to travel fewer minutes. However, if a lead carer has good public transport links to childcare provision and areas where there is work, the WC must consider maintaining the maximum 60 minute travel to work time for lead carers.

Generic Template

For further information on requirements for lead carers of children, see Safeguarding and support for lead carers – case studies.

Setting work-related requirements to give a claimant the best prospects of finding work

Work-related requirements can be mandatory or voluntary.

Mandatory work-related requirements are recorded as either work search requirements or mandatory work-preparation requirements.

Voluntary requirements can be set for claimants in the following regimes:

- AWRR – Intensive Work Search
- Work Preparation
- Work Focused Interview only (all work preparation activities are voluntary)

These should be set as 'Other work related activities' in WSP. Failure to complete these requirements is not sanctionable but they will be activities that help the claimant prepare for work such as voluntary work, activities the claimant chooses to do or stretching activities where the WC would not want to sanction them, for example attending counselling. See Other work-related activities - setting requirements on the Work Services Platform.

The WC considers if the claimant's work search or work preparation should be tailored and should continue to apply while the claimant is undertaking intensive work preparation activities. The WC should also be mindful that the claimant's attendance at Work Search Interviews and Work Search Reviews may need to be amended to consider what work-related requirements are reasonable and help to support the claimant into work.

In setting requirements, the WC sets out a detailed plan of action, articulating the steps a claimant must take to give themselves the best prospects of getting paid work quickly.

The WC can set all or any of the following requirements:

- work search requirements (including mandatory job applications)
- work availability requirements
- other work preparation requirements

It is important the claimant understands that if they fail without good reason to complete a mandatory work preparation, work search or interview requirement then their Universal Credit payments will be cut. These cuts are known as sanctions.

The WC should ask the claimant to read the sanctions information in their Claimant

Generic Template

Commitment and Commitment Pack, explain it to them and describe the length and the amount of the sanction that may apply in relation to each requirement and that sanctions may be longer for each successive failure.

A WC should mandate any work preparation activity they think will make it more likely that the claimant will obtain paid work, more paid work or better-paid work and be mindful that their attendance at a WSI or WSR may need to be amended to accommodate any mandatory work preparation activities.

A claimant must take all reasonable actions to get paid work. They must usually engage in work search and work preparation activity for the same number of hours as they are available for work up to a maximum of 35 hours a week. For example, if they are expected to be available to work for 30 hours per week, they must spend at least 30 hours each week on their work search and work preparation requirements. If they undertake 10 hours of work preparation a week, they will be expected to spend 20 hours of work search.

The number of hours lead carers are usually expected to engage in work search and work preparation activity are:

- lead carers of children aged 3 and 4 – up to a maximum of 16 hours per week
- lead carers of children aged 5 to 12 – up to a maximum of 25 hours per week
- lead carers of children aged 13 and over – up to a maximum of 35 hours per week

Work coaches must set work search and work preparation requirements that meet this expectation, taking into account the claimant's personal circumstances. These should be the most effective activities which (when undertaken) give the claimant the best possible chance of getting paid work quickly.

Looking for work often and in the right way is critical in terms of securing employment quickly. See Work preparation activities overview.

The claimant's work search and work preparation requirements must be SMART. That is:

- Specific – it must state the claimant's precise job requirements and the specific activity they will take to give them the best chance of finding and securing a job (for example, generic job descriptions such as 'driver' should be avoided and more specific terms such as 'bus driver', 'HGV driver' or 'van driver' used)
- Measurable – for work search activities to be undertaken regularly, how many and how often must be specified
- Achievable – any activities set must be achievable (activities that are clearly beyond the claimant's capabilities or are simply unreasonable should not be included)

Generic Template

- Realistic – job requirements and work-related requirements must be realistic, taking into account the claimant's skills, experience, capabilities, etc. and the local labour market
- Time bound – activities should be time bound and will be reviewed at appropriate points (activities may be regular (weekly) and reviewed within Work Search Reviews, or be one-off, time bound and reviewed within Work Search Interviews or Work Search Reviews)

If the claimant has been mandated to apply for any vacancies these must be recorded on the Work Services Platform (WSP) by the WC. See 'Requiring a claimant to apply for a specific vacancy' below.

Additional information to aid a claimant's work search

The National Employer and Partnership Team have developed a number of sector specific pages on 'Finding a Job in'.

These are based on insight from employers and have been designed to enable work coaches to provide bespoke advice and support on finding jobs in these sectors. Each page includes examples of job search activities which could be included in a Claimant Commitment if appropriate and if agreed between the WC and claimant. There are also examples of activities that work coaches can do to learn more about the sectors and/or how claimants can demonstrate that they have completed the activity.

For further information see Finding a job sector pages.

Mandatory work preparation requirements

Mandatory work preparation requirements are those specific activities that a claimant must take for the purpose of making it more likely in the opinion of the WC that they will obtain paid work, more paid work or better-paid work. These may include:

- attending a skills assessment
- improving personal presentation
- taking part in training
- taking part in programmes or provision
- undertaking work experience or a work placement
- developing a business plan

This is not an exhaustive list and the requirements must be SMART.

If the claimants work preparation activity hours are equal to or more than their available hours, the WC must tailor the Claimant Commitment to reflect this.

The requirement to create an account and upload a CV in Find a job is either:

- a specific work search requirement (AWRR claimants) – see Work search

Generic Template

activities overview

- a work preparation requirement (Work Preparation claimants) – see Work preparation activities overview

Using Find a job to look for work will be recorded as a work search activity on the Claimant Commitment. See Work search activities overview.

For an overview of Find a job, how and when to mandate a claimant to create an account and upload a CV in Find a job, see Find a job or other jobsites and Work Services Platform.

If a claimant fails to comply with a mandatory work preparation activity this attracts a low level sanction. A low level sanction has two elements :

- an open-ended period equal to the number of days from the date of failure until the day before the requirement or alternative requirement is met or lifted, followed by
- a fixed period of 7, 14 or 28 days (dependent on whether there are any previous failures in the 365 days before the current failure)

When setting a mandatory work preparation requirement the WC must explain that if the claimant fails to do that activity Universal Credit will be cut for a period equal to the number of days between the date of failure until they complete that activity or if they are unable to complete that activity, until they contact their WC to arrange an alternative activity which they then do complete. Their payments will then be cut for a further fixed period of up to 28 days (depending on how many requirements they failed to meet and when).

When setting the mandatory work preparation requirement the WC must ensure the claimant understands what to do to meet the requirement or if they haven't met it on time, what actions they must take to reach compliance as quickly as possible. This means that they need to complete the original activity as soon as possible after the original completion date however where a claimant can no longer reasonably complete the original requirement they must know what they should do instead to achieve compliance. Their open-ended period of sanction will continue uninterrupted until they do this.

If the requirement is an on-going task, for example creating a CV by a set date, and the claimant does not do this – their Universal Credit payments may be cut for the number of days from the date of failure until they meet the requirement (which is that they create a CV).

If the requirement set is time-limited, for example attending a forklift truck driving course on 8 March – once 8 March has passed the claimant cannot meet the requirement.

Generic Template

It is essential when setting a requirement the WC considers and tells the claimant what they must do if they fail to undertake the original requirement. If it is possible to agree an alternative requirement up-front then this can be recorded on the claimant record so that it is noted on the Claimant Commitment.

For example: 'By (enter date) I will create an account and upload a CV in Find a job. I will achieve this by using the public access computers in Oldham Library. Otherwise I shall use the public access computers in Oldham Jobcentre to achieve this. If I am unable to complete this action by the date specified above, I will contact the Service Centre on the appropriate 0800 number to explain why'.

Work preparation requirements (and specific work search requirements) should be recorded on the Claimant Commitment as follows:

Section 2: Specific actions I will take	By	Review
Attend and fully take part in a forklift truck training course on (enter date) at ABC training. If I cannot attend, I will contact my WC to arrange an alternative	15 June	17 June
If without good reason I don't do this, my Universal Credit payments will be cut by (amount) for each day until I contact my WC. My payments will then be cut by (amount) a day for a further period of up to 28 days.	As soon as possible after the 15 June
I will create an account and upload a CV in Find a job by the 15 June. If I cannot do this, I will contact my WC.	15 June	17 June
If without good reason I don't do this, my Universal Credit payments will be cut by (amount) for each day until I have done so. My payments will then be cut by (amount) a day for a further period of up to 28 days.	As soon as possible after 15 June
Bring my CV to my appointment on 17	17 June	17 June

Generic Template

June. If I cannot do this, I will contact my WC.
If without good reason I don't do this, my Universal Credit payments will be cut by (amount) for each day until I bring my CV to this office. My payments will then be cut by (amount) a day for a further period of up to 28 days.	As soon as possible after 17 June

In some circumstances the WC may also agree that the claimant should undertake a voluntary work preparation activity. There is no sanction if the claimant does not do this activity, however if a claimant fails to do the voluntary activity they must make up the extra time in their work search. See Other work-related activities - setting requirements on the Work Services Platform.

For example, if the claimant agrees to do 5 hours of voluntary work preparation activity (such as attending their local work club for 5 hours a week), this may be deducted from the amount of time they are expected to undertake work search (see 'Setting work search activities' below). If the claimant does not do their voluntary activity in a particular week they need to make up their expected hours of work search. The WC must explain this to the claimant.

Recording work preparation activities

The claimant's mandatory work preparation requirements are recorded on the 'Work preparation activities' section of the claimant's record. To enter a new work preparation action, the WC:

1. Selects 'Add new work preparation action' from the toolbar.
2. Completes the 'Specific action' field.
3. Enters the dates the activity is to be completed and reviewed by:
 - if there are more work preparation activities to be considered, the WC selects 'Save and new' and adds a new activity
 - if the work preparation activity is to be completed before the next Work Search Review, the WC sets a task to follow up the agreed action (see Work Services Platform - setting a task and CAMLite and Work Services Platform notes)

The details of the work preparation action are recorded and the entry is saved by selecting 'Save and close' from the toolbar menu. The work preparation action will then show in the 'Work preparation actions' field.

Generic Template

Voluntary work preparation activities are recorded on the 'Other work-related activities' section of the claimant's record.

Requiring a claimant to apply for a specific vacancy

A WC can require a claimant to apply for a specific vacancy that they are capable of doing by recording this as work preparation activity.

The WC will need to include all of the information that the claimant will require to identify the vacancy. Although this is recorded in the 'Work preparation activities' section of the claimant record it attracts a high level sanction.

If a WC requires the claimant to apply for a specific vacancy, they must :

- record the matched job on the Claimant Commitment as a mandatory job vacancy application
- have discussed the vacancy with the claimant
- ensure that the Claimant Commitment is accepted

See Work Services – recording a claimant's mandatory job vacancy applications.

Setting regular work search activities

Work Search Activities are those that the claimant is expected to undertake regularly (unless they have been 'switched off' temporarily).

The claimant must take all reasonable action for the purpose of obtaining paid work and the WC must set work search activities such that the claimant will conduct work search for their expected hours. This will be 35 hours a week unless there are agreed restrictions on the claimant's availability for work, in which case the number of hours of work search will be the same as their availability.

Work search hours will also reflect any time spent undertaking agreed work preparation activities, voluntary work and paid work. However, the amount of time spent on agreed work preparation activities (and/or voluntary work) should not mean that there is no time for a claimant to undertake regular work search. A claimant should undertake regular work search activity each week and work coaches need to balance the need for work search activities with any work preparation activity.

Example 1:

A claimant has had their expected hours limited to 20. They have told their WC that they are undertaking voluntary work (where a maximum of 10 hours can count towards their expected hours) but the WC also wants them to attend an ELR course for 10 hours a week. In this example, the WC is likely to need to agree a lower number of hours that the claimant can spend on voluntary work, down from 10 hours, so that they can spend time on work search. The amount of time they need to spend on work search will be determined by the WC and the number of hours of voluntary work (that count towards their expected hours) reduced accordingly.

Generic Template

Example 2:

The claimant does not have any restrictions on their work availability. They have been referred to local provision and a work placement of 25 hours per week has been arranged for the remaining 10 hours they would be expected to undertake work search.

Any paid work (including part-time or casual self-employment) the claimant undertakes can be considered by the WC to reduce the usual requirement for looking and preparing for work. This is at the discretion of the WC and should be recorded on the Claimant Commitment.

The claimant must be prepared to give up the paid work, including part time or casual self-employment, to take up employment to move them over their individual threshold. This could also include combining their part time or casual self-employment with another job or increasing the hours of their part time or casual self-employment to move them over their individual threshold.

Accounting for self-employment

A reduction to the claimant's expected work search hours is most likely to be identified at a Work Search Interview following a Gateway Interview

When considering the appropriate number of hours to apply as a relevant deduction in the case of self-employment, the WC must take account of the following:

- the self-employed activity has not been deemed gainful self-employment during the Gateway Interview and therefore should not be regarded as such
- the relevant deduction must be appropriate for the work undertaken and the payment received

The WC checks WSP 'General notes/Archived notes' and looks at the reason for the decision that the claimant is not gainfully self-employed. This may help to decide how the self-employed activity should be treated at the WSI. To locate WSP archived notes see Work Services Platform guide (claimant records – maintaining claimant records).

When deciding how much time to deduct, the WC considers, the amount the claimant earns from self-employment divided by the National Minimum Wage for the claimant's age group. This gives an approximate number of hours to use as a guide for making a relevant deduction from the claimant's expected hours of work.

Generic Template

Example:

A small amount of self-employed work is considered useful to keep a claimant's skills current by the WC. This could provide a return to work route if the claimant has a long period of absence. The WC may also consider whether earnings from self-employment were lower than usual in a month because of normal business patterns rather than because the claimant was spending less time doing this, and whether earnings are likely to increase in the near future. In these cases the WC considers allowing a greater number of hour's deduction than suggested to reflect the self-employed activity by dividing the claimant's self-employed earnings by the National Minimum Wage.

The WC may consider that a reduction in hours is not appropriate as the self-employment is not significant enough to change the Claimant Commitment.

If the reason for the original 'not gainfully self-employed' decision no longer applies, and the WC considers that a new Gateway Interview will lead to a different result, they consider booking another Gateway Interview. For example, if the claimant was deemed 'not gainfully self-employed' because they were unable to provide significant development plans for their business, but have since produced a credible business plan and carried out significant marketing activity, a repeat Gateway Interview would be appropriate.

If the WC considers that further support will develop the claimant's self-employment further giving a better chance of them being deemed gainfully self-employed in the future, the WC considers referring or signposting the claimant to the appropriate support.

Voluntary work

When considering voluntary work, the WC deducts the hours the claimant spends undertaking agreed voluntary work up to a maximum of 50% of the claimant's expected hours.

Example:

Mary's Claimant Commitment requires her to be available for work for 28 hours per week. These are her expected hours and she does voluntary work for a local charity for 18 hours per week. Mary's WC can deduct 14 hours (being 50% of the 28 hours that she is available for work) from the hours that she is available for work when determining the amount of time she must spend on work search activities. Mary can still do more hours at the charity but these will not count as work search or work preparation activities.

The work search activities set should be the most effective activities which, when undertaken, give the claimant the best possible chance of getting paid work quickly.

How long any particular activity will take will vary from claimant to claimant and the WC must judge this in line with the claimant's circumstances and abilities.

Generic Template

Work Search activities will differ for each claimant based on their job requirements and circumstances and may include for example:

- using Find a job
- registering with and using other job search websites
- carrying out other activities to look for work
- making applications
- registering with an employment agency
- seeking references

This list is not exhaustive and all work search activities must be SMART.

Having set all the reasonable and effective actions that the claimant could do, they will have met their work search requirements if they undertake all these actions.

If the claimant does not undertake these actions the WC considers whether they have done all that can be reasonably expected of them. See Work Search Reviews.

See also Work Services - process overview under the heading 'Voluntary work',

Recording work search activities

The claimant's work search activities are recorded on the 'Work search activities' section of the claimant's record.

To enter a new work search activity, the WC selects 'Add new work search activity' from the toolbar. The details of the work search activity are then recorded and the entry is saved by selecting 'Save and close' from the toolbar menu. The work search activity will then show in the 'Work search activities' field.

Temporarily switching-off requirements

Work coaches may identify circumstances which mean that the claimant's work search and availability requirements will be temporarily switched-off.

Regulations give a list of the particular circumstances where this is appropriate, for example if a claimant:

- with a self-certificate/medical evidence reports illness of up to 14 days
- is homeless, see Switching off requirements - homeless claimants
- is receiving medical treatment or is convalescing outside Great Britain (for up to 6 months) or accompanying a partner, child or qualifying young person (for whom they are responsible) for medical treatment or convalescence
- is attending jury service or attending court or a tribunal as a witness, see Switching off requirements – jury Service
- whose partner, child or qualifying young person has died (for up to 6 months from the date of death) – see Switching off requirements –

Generic Template

bereavement

- who is a responsible carer of a child in distress due to bereavement or being a victim/ witnessing violence and abuse (including domestic violence and abuse) – See Switching off requirements – child in considerable distress
- is participating in a structured recovery orientated course of alcohol or drugs dependency treatment (for up to 6 months) – see Switching off requirements – drug and alcohol dependency
- is a prisoner (detained in custody pending trial or sentence or on temporary release)
- has arrangements made by a protection provider for up to 3 months (this can be extended in exceptional circumstances)
- is engaged in a public duty, for example a volunteer fire-fighter, lifeboat crew member, Territorial Army reservist – see Switching off requirements – carrying out a public duty
- is attending a residential camp as a requirement of undertaking an Open University course

Work coaches have the discretion also to switch-off or tailor work preparation and any Work Focused Interview requirements on the claimant, in addition to switching-off work search or availability requirements.

However, there is no expectation that these need to be switched-off and WCs can decide that a claimant is still be able to undertake some work preparation activity or attend Work Focused Interviews, if this is reasonable based on the claimant's circumstances.

See Temporary unavailability – considering if work-related requirements can be switched-off.

Victims of domestic violence

If a claimant notifies Universal Credit that they have been a victim of domestic violence in the past six months, they are not living at the same address as the perpetrator and they have not had access to this easement in the last 12 months, they must be given an exemption from all work-related requirements for one month.

During this time the claimant has the opportunity to provide relevant evidence from a person acting in an official capacity and, if they do so, will have this exemption extended to 13 weeks in total:

- if claimants feel (before this 1 month or 13 week easement is over) that that they wish to reconnect with their work search or preparation activities, they should be able to do so on a voluntary basis until the end of the easement period – at which point the claimant's appropriate work-related requirements will be re-applied
- if a claimant does wish to begin to carry out work-related activities before their exemption period is over, it should be explained to the claimant that they will not be able to 'bank' this time and access it later on after the easement period has ended

Generic Template

If the claimant is the responsible carer of a child, work search and work availability requirements must not be imposed for a further 13 weeks, bringing the period to 26 weeks in total. However, work coaches may consider work preparation or Work Focused Interview requirements during this 13 week period.

Claimants who have been a victim of domestic violence, but are outside the scope of this specific easement period, may need to access a temporary lifting of work search and availability requirements as a result of temporary circumstances which are directly or indirectly related to their experience of domestic violence.

Example:

If a claimant was obliged to move accommodation in order to ensure their safety, or the safety of their children, work search and availability requirements can be temporary lifted to accommodate this if necessary.

For further information, see Switching off requirements – domestic violence.

Claimant is not available for work or work search activity

If the claimant has had work search or work availability requirements switched-off, the WC selects 'No' from the 'Available for work' drop-down list and records the reason(s) in the 'Reason for unavailability' field.

If the claimant is available for work from a specific date, the date is recorded in the 'Available from date' field. The date that this will be reviewed is recorded in the 'Review date' field.

The claimant's required weekly work search hours are recorded in the 'Work search hours per week' field. This defaults to 35 but can be changed if required.