TH/HarPol/20201008/RE

Dear Hannah Walmsley

Freedom of Information Act 2000 ("FOIA")
Request for information Fines Under The Rule Of Six

Further to your request for information dated 8th October 2020 to the Tees and Hartlepool Harbour Police (the "Harbour Police"), we confirm that we do not hold the information you have requested.

Disclosure of the Information Requested

You should be aware that where you make a request under FOIA, any response we make or disclosure of information is a response made in the public domain and not just to you as applicant. We disclose the information requested through our website into the public domain. When we consider requests under FOIA, we need to take this into account.

The information you have requested

Your request made through the WhatDoTheyKnow website dated 8th October 2020 provided as follows:

- Please can you advise how many fines have been issued since the 'Rule of six' legislation came into force on the 14th of September 2020?
- Can you also please advise how many illegal parties have been attended and of those how many dispersed during the same period.

The Harbour Police has not issued any fines or attended any illegal parties.

Your right to complain to the Information Commissioner

The Information Commissioner can be contacted at:

Any questions?

If you wish to discuss any of the above, please do not hesitate to contact me. If you have any complaints about the handling of your request, we offer an internal review (complaints) procedure. If you wish to use our internal review procedure, please contact Richard Ellison dpo@pdports.co.uk. In the internal review procedure, your request and our decision will (wherever possible) be reviewed by a senior member of our organisation who had no input in the original decision. We will aim to conclude our internal review process within 20 working days of receipt of your complaint. We will inform you if we consider that this timescale is unlikely to be complied with and will inform you of a likely response date.

Please remember to quote the reference number above in any future communications.

Yours sincerely

Richard Ellison
