Dear Mr Tsigarides

Thank you for your further e-mail of 19 October in response to my letter of the same day.

I believe that we have reached a position where I can only refer you to our previous replies. I must advise that unless any new issues of substance are raised, all further correspondence received from you will only be acknowledged and placed on file.

I must reiterate that if you fail to tax the vehicle or display the allocated registration number that was issued by the DVLA, you will be liable for any enforcement action.

I trust this explains matters for you.

Yours sincerely

Paul Timms
