- We understand that some people struggle to pay for their TV Licence
- We want to do all we can to help people pay for their licence and avoid a court prosecution and a fine of up to £1,000
- TV Licensing's Payment Card is designed to help make buying a TV Licence more convenient by spreading payments either weekly, fortnightly or monthly
- It is open to everyone there are no eligibility criteria. Currently 1.5m members are registered

The Payment Card in practice

- Members can make payments:
 - At any PayPoint outlet (there are more than 24,000 across the UK)
 - Online
 - Via an automated telephone service by debit or credit card
 - By secure SMS (text message)
- Members can also check balances, statements, renewal dates and payment history via online, telephone and SMS services
- An SMS reminder service is available currently over a million text messages reminders are sent to members every month

Missed payments and arrears

- If a TV Licensing Payment Card member misses a payment, they will receive a number of reminders
 - By mail
 - By telephone
 - By SMS (if opted to receive text reminders)
 - If no payment is received at this stage, the member risks their account being handed to our arrears collection partner (akinika) who will, after requesting payment by telephone and mail, make doorstep collection visits
 - Arrears collection officers are not bailiffs and do not have power of entry

Getting the message across

- TV Licensing provides a range of information in foreign languages
- There are:
 - 18 languages available on www.tvlicensing.co.uk
 - 180 languages available via our telephone translation service
- We also distribute leaflets to community organisations in 18 languages
