Hi [REDACTED]

That's no problem, I have secured a room for the 5th and re-sent an updated meeting request.

Kind regards,

Hi [REDACTED],

Thank you for circulating the meeting request but it has now emerged that [REDACTED] and I have to attend another meeting on 3rd October that I was unaware was being arranged when I was emailing you. Would it be possible to move our meeting to 5th October?

I apologise for this inconvenience.

Kind Regards

Hi [REDACTED]

Yes the 3rd is still suitable and our preference would be for you to come to City Hall. I will send through the invite shortly.

Kind regards,

Hi [REDACTED]

Thanks for your email.

[REDACTED] is currently on leave but her diary looks clear so shall we pencil something in for the 3rd October if you are still free? Would you prefer us to come to City Hall or would you like to come to our office in Bloomsbury?

Regards

Hi [REDACTED]

Thank you for your email and introduction.

[REDACTED] and I are happy to meet to discuss areas of agreement to inform and clarify issues for drafting matters statements, however it is unlikely that we would draft a statement of common ground unless we were directed to do so by the inspectors.

In terms of timing, it is likely that we will receive the draft matters in September so a meeting early October is most suitable. Both Rob and myself are available on the 3rd and 5th of October.

Kind regards,

Dear [REDACTED]

Hope you are well.

As an introduction I am Sport England's Planning Manager who is responsible for sport facility planning for the London Borough's north of the River Thames. My colleague [REDACTED] does the same role for the southern Boroughs.

I understand that [REDACTED] spoke with [REDACTED] last week and discussed setting up a meeting to discuss a statement of common ground relating to the London Plan and other elements of strategic planning, such as the Facilities Planning Model, Active Environments etc. I believe [REDACTED] suggested to arrange a the meeting with you towards the end of September.

In terms of dates, would you be available on one of the following:

- 17th September
- 28th September
- 3rd October
- 5th October

If not, are you able to suggest alternatives when you would be available.

Kind Regards

[REDACTED]

Planning Manager
