Date Issued
Title: Thameslink Vacant Possession of London Dungeon Premises
Scope The paper is to seek DfT authority to spend [REDACTED] to fund additional property compensation costs to secure vacant possession of the arches below London Bridge leased to Merlin Entertainment Group (MEG), currently trading as London Dungeons. [REDACTED]
Details <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• During the TWA inquiry, it was envisaged that the new railway structure could be built over the top of London Dungeon with minimal impact on its operation.</li><li>• In GRIP 4 single option development, more detailed structures and ground investigations have been undertaken and have identified that considerably more structural strengthening of the arches is required. Therefore, MEG cannot remain in occupation and continue to trade whilst the works are ongoing.</li><li>• Project need vacant possession of the arches in January 2013 to commence engineering works in this area.
