Dear Hannah Garrett

Freedom of Information Request - RFI20200753

Thank you for your request to the BBC of 12 June 2020 seeking the following information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 ('the Act'):

My mother was in an episode of Kilroy in approx 1992. Her name is Lorraine Garrett and her mother is Jean Jenner. They were in an episode about having a clean house vs a dirty house. Is it possible to get a copy of the episode?

The information you have requested is excluded from the Act because it is held for the purposes of 'journalism, art or literature.' The BBC is therefore not obliged to provide this information to you and will not be doing so on this occasion. Part VI of Schedule 1 to FOIA provides that information held by the BBC and the other public service broadcasters is only covered by the Act if it is held for 'purposes other than those of journalism, art or literature'. The BBC is not required to supply information held for the purposes of creating the BBC's output or information that supports and is closely associated with these creative activities.

However, we can inform you that the BBC has a process for accessing archive material for those that appeared in BBC programmes. More details as well as an application form can be found at the following link: <https://www.bbc.co.uk/contact/questions/programme-information/contributor-access>. However, in this case, as you may have been considered as 'in the picture' rather than actually contributing to the programme we should inform you that this route may offer little help.

The only other two possibilities are the British Library, and the British Film Institute, both of whom hold archival footage on behalf of the BBC. Due to the volume of footage the BBC broadcasts, it is not possible to keep an entire archive collection of material, which is why archival footage is deposited with these two organisations.

Appeal Rights

The BBC does not offer an internal review when the information requested is not covered by the Act. If you disagree with our decision you can appeal to the Information Commissioner. Contact details are: Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire, SK9 5AF telephone 01625 545 700. <http://www.ico.gov.uk>

Yours sincerely
