Dear Mr/Ms Derwent

Thank you for your email of 16 February 2011 requesting information about LLB diversity statistics. I am pleased to enclose most of the requested information: the University of Edinburgh does not hold the information you request on dependents. Please accept our apologies for the delay in responding.

You will see that I have not provided the exact number where the number is less than five. This is because disclosing these low numbers could enable individuals to be identified. This would breach the data protection principles set out in the Data Protection Act 1998. The Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 does not require us to provide this sort of information as it is exempt under section 38(1)(b).

Copyright in the information you have been given belongs to the University of Edinburgh or to another party. Copyright material must not be copied, distributed, modified, reproduced, transmitted, published (including published on the Internet or an intranet), or otherwise made available in whole or in part without the prior written consent of the copyright holder.

If you are dissatisfied with this response, you may ask the University to conduct a review of this decision. To do this, please contact the University in writing (including by fax, letter or email) or in some other recorded form (e.g. audio or video tape), describe the original request, explain your grounds for dissatisfaction, and include an address for correspondence. You have 40 working days from receipt of this letter to submit a review request. When the review process has been completed, if you are still dissatisfied, you may ask the Scottish Information Commissioner to intervene.

Yours sincerely
