Dear Nicoletta Epaminonda,

Request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 ("the Act")

Further to your recent request for information held by King's College London, I am writing to confirm that the requested information is held by the university.

Your request

We received your information request on 26 June 2019 and have treated it as a request for information made under section 1(1) of the Act.

You requested the following information:

- (1) In the years 2018-2019, was there a cut-off LNAT score for applicants (i.e. a minimum LNAT score under which applicants will not be considered)?*
- (2) If so, what was this cut-off score?*
- (3) In any event, what was the average LNAT score for successful applicants (i.e. applicants to whom an offer was made) in the above-mentioned application cycle?*
- (4) Does the university take into account the LNAT essay at all and, if so, in what way and to what extent?*

Our response

(1)-(4) The LNAT is used in the assessment of every main UCAS cycle applicant to the Law LLB at King's College London. We do not have a "cut off score", assessing all applications holistically. Assessment of the LNAT involves the overall score only, and we do not take the LNAT essay into account.

The average (mean) LNAT score for applicants made an offer to M100 Law LLB for 2018/9 admissions was 25.

This completes the university's response to your information request.

Your right to complain

If you are unhappy with the service you have received in relation to your information request or feel that it has not been properly handled you have the right to complain or request a review of our decision by contacting the Assistant Director of Business Assurance (Information Compliance) within 60 days of the date of this letter.

Further information about our internal complaints procedure is available at the link below:

http://www.kcl.ac.uk/college/policyzone/assets/files/governance_and_legal/Freedom_of_Information_Policy_updated_Oct_202011.pdf

In the event that you are not content with the outcome of your complaint you may apply to the Information Commissioner for a decision. Generally the Information Commissioner cannot make a decision unless you have exhausted the internal complaints procedure provided by King's College London.

The Information Commissioner can be contacted at the following address:
