Dear Trevor

Thanks for the information on the announcement, which all looks to be going well. As it happens, I met Ron Oxburgh last night and he duly moaned at me about putting his name into the frame, but my distinct impression was that he was rather pleased. Knowing him, he will certainly make it work.

You may know that I also talked to Michael Kelly who was very positive and understood the absolute need for objectivity, particularly given his known stance.

I hope this is going to work out, but we have the right team so it should have every opportunity.

Best wishes, John
