Chris / [REDACTED],

Any updates on the mirror shop?

I see no improvements (see attached). This has been ongoing for far too long.

Best regards

Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for your email regarding the Mirror Shop and the excessive use of signs.

This has now been investigated and having reviewed the situation and gathered relevant information about the history, officers have now concluded that the most appropriate approach is for officers to serve formal Notice on the owner. This will inform the owner that the practice must stop otherwise we will take legal action through the courts. Unfortunately, RBG do not have powers to remove goods ourselves until the owner has been given a reasonable amount of time.

A member of the highways and planning teams will jointly visit the premises and serve Notice. Should the owner not cooperate then the matter will be passed to the Councils Legal Services to advise further and commence proceedings.

I hope this action will lead to an improvement. If you have any queries about this then please let me know.

Kind regards,

My Apologies [REDACTED].

I will chase this up today. I am well aware of the issues around the mirror shop, I also find it very annoying.

[REDACTED] / Chris

I write to you as absolutely NOTHING has been done regarding my initial raising of these issues. Can you please advise?

In addition, I would like to bring to your attention the Mirror shop on Woolwich Road near Aldeburgh Street. The business has felt for some time to advertise its services to the the public using the highways. It not only leaves grotesque figurines the establishment during opening hours but it also leaves signs on the highway and surrounding streets advertising free parking.

I suspect the establishment does not have permission to advertise in such a manner and honestly makes the area look shabby.

I look forward to your thoughts on this and my initial feedback some weeks ago.

Regards
