Dear Sir/Madam

Freedom of Information Act 2000

I can confirm that the information requested is held by Westminster City Council. I have detailed below the information that is being released to you.

With regard to formal Bus Stops and Bus Stands on the Westminster Highway Network the vast majority have been established for many decades and would have been identified by predecessor organisations of that time. Since 1999 Transport for London (TfL) has been the main authority responsible for the implementation of new Bus Stops and Bus Stands on both the Westminster Highway Network and the strategic TfL Transport for London Road Network (TLRN) and with regard to the former the City Council is consulted about any new location, especially where there are other traffic and kerbside management considerations. So on this basis it is advised that anyone concerned about the location of Bus Stops on the Public Highway should first contact TfL in the first instance at: tfl.gov.uk or TfL Customer Services, 4th Floor, 14 Pier Walk, London SE10 0ES.
