

Council confirms no successful candidate for chief executive role

Bridgend County Borough Council has confirmed that it is continuing to seek to recruit a new chief executive.

Following a recent recruitment and selection process which incorporated a two-day assessment centre, interviews, a presentation to Council and question-and-answer sessions with members, a successful candidate has not been identified for the role.

The authority remains committed towards recruiting the most suitable candidate and will now look at all available options to ensure that this can be achieved.

(ends)