Please advise how it should be submitted - for example, should I just e-mail it to you as a PDF or do I maybe upload it onto your planning permission website?

Dear Mr Younger

Your details were passed to me by a colleague and I hope you do not mind me contacting you on this matter.

Lancashire County Council is in receipt of planning applications from an oil and gas company called Cuadrilla for the drilling, fracking and extended flow testing of the gas with a direct connection to a local gas transmission pipeline, if extended testing is thought to be viable and is carried out. The applications are accompanied by an Environmental Statement that is extensive. The applications can be viewed on the County Councils website at <http://planningregister.lancashire.gov.uk/>

We have now received many representations on the proposals. The attached representations from [REDACTED] raises objection on the grounds of geology, seismology, and hydrology.

In view of the concerns expressed over inadequate consultation re fossil fuels, I said to Court I would prepare a remit for the working group before it meets, setting out the way in which it will go about its work. The remit will be received by the Court meeting next week and, if they are happy with it, the working group will then meet,

Dear David,

In discussion with Paul Younger yesterday, we noted in the minutes of the June Court that there was an agenda item on conflict minerals: CRT/2013/52.2 SRC Motion – Conflict Minerals

Is this returning to Court, and is there any paperwork that we may reasonably see to provide advice of relevance to Court? I do so in my capacity as an expert on mineral deposit studies, in my capacity of Professor of Applied Geology. Next month I will chair the panel to deliberate applications for NERC/EPSRC's £8M+ Programme – Security of Supply of Minerals, which focuses on elements of direct value to the environmental sector (Nd, Se, Te, Co, In, Ga and HREE). I am also on the Programme Executive Board.

I am on holiday from Friday until Monday 27th, but am in all day tomorrow.

Yes please – I'd rather not fish them all out myself.

I see no problems with most of them, but:

- emails RECEIVED from @ [REDACTED] usually all contain the footnote that they are privileged and can only be viewed by the recipient.
- most emails I receive from EPSRC are privileged, as I am member of the Strategic Advisory Network: they contain material that is confidential to EPSRC council. And may not be divulged publically.

In both cases, therefore, I would suggest the applicant contact those organisations, as I am not sure I can release information sent to me confidentially?

Yes please – I'd rather not fish them all out myself.

I see no problems with most of them, but:

- emails RECEIVED from @ [REDACTED] usually all contain the footnote that they are privileged and can only be viewed by the recipient.
- most emails I receive from EPSRC are privileged, as I am member of the Strategic Advisory Network: they contain material that is confidential to EPSRC council. And may not be divulged publically.

In both cases, therefore, I would suggest the applicant contact those organisations, as I am not sure I can release information sent to me confidentially?

Gordon has asked that I forward the attached request to you for information (apologies if you have already received this request). Due to the nature of the request he wonders whether a co-ordinated response should be organized and is suggesting that we could contact IT Services for the information requested – if you are content for us to do this?

Look forward to hearing from you.

HANDLING THIRD PARTY REQUESTS FOR STUDENT OR STAFF INFORMATION

IF YOU ARE ASKED: "How has my son done in his exams?", or "I'm sponsoring Mr X's study at your University, can you please provide me with up-to-date contact details?", or "I'm calling from Police Scotland, can you tell me if Professor Y works in the School of Biology, and if so what are her office hours?"

HOW DO YOU RESPOND?

Information regarding staff or students must not be released to third parties, unless there is a legitimate reason to do so, in keeping with University policy. Details on the limited occasions in which it is acceptable to release information are found here: <http://www.gla.ac.uk/services/dpfoioffice/a-ztopics/policerequestsforpersonaldata/> and <http://www.gla.ac.uk/services/dpfoioffice/a-ztopics/emergencyrequestsforpersonaldata/>.
