Dear Sir/Madam

I am able to provide a response to your request for information, received on 25 April 2016:

Please can you tell me how many employees are currently the subject of criminal charges from the police. Please also supply their job title and/or rank, details of the alleged offence and whether they are suspended or remain in the workplace.

We have carefully considered your request and have come to the decision that due to the low numbers (fewer than 5) all of the information is personal data as defined by the Data Protection Act 1998; it is information about someone else and, by law*, I'm unable to give this to you.

If you are unhappy with my response, you can complain or ask for a review of your request by writing to us within 40 working days of receiving this response. The full procedure is on our website at [delete as appropriate] <http://www.gloucestershire.gov.uk/dataprotection> <http://www.gloucestershire.gov.uk/foi>. This should be addressed to:

Shire Hall, Westgate Street, Gloucester. GL1 2TG
xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx.xxx.xx

I will now close your request as of this date.

We would like to hear your views on our service. If you'd like to tell us how we did, you can complete our feedback form online at <http://www.gloucestershire.gov.uk/foifeedback>

Yours faithfully

Teresa Wilmshurst
Information Requests Manager

*As you are not the data subject, release of this information would constitute a breach of principle 1 of the Data Protection Act. Principle 1 states that personal data shall be processed (used) fairly and lawfully and, in particular, shall not be processed unless at least one of the conditions in Schedule 2 is met; in this case none of the conditions in Schedule 2 have been met.

This means that the section 40 exemption of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FoIA) is engaged; this email therefore acts as a refusal notice under section 17 of the FoIA as all of the information you have requested is exempt from disclosure.
