

Lisa Whitehurst

From: Lisa Whitehurst <lisa.whitehurst@charitycommission.gsi.gov.uk>
Sent: 10 July 2015 11:21
Subject: FW: 1151133/EASTON COMMUNITY CENTRE CC:01200880 CRM:0286200

----- Original Message -----

From: Registration Application
Received: 19/02/2014 14:54
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: 1151133/EASTON COMMUNITY CENTRE CC:01200880

Dear Trustee,

Registered Charity Number 1151133 EASTON COMMUNITY CENTRE

We are pleased to tell you that EASTON COMMUNITY CENTRE has achieved charitable status and has been entered onto the Register of Charities with the Registered Charity Number 1151133. The decision to register EASTON COMMUNITY CENTRE was based on the information supplied during the application process.

What to do now:

If this is the first time you have acted as a trustee then our website has some very helpful information on trusteeship. In fact, even if you have served as a trustee before, or you are currently acting as a trustee, then it is worth a few minutes of your time to refresh and update yourself on your responsibilities and our Trustee Handbook is a useful guide.

The charity's details will be available for public viewing on our website within 48 hours. It is essential that you check that all the details on the Register are accurate and that they are kept up-to-date by requesting a new password to access our online services. From here you can also download your Registration Certificate.

What to do in the future:

Registration is just the first stage of a potentially long journey for many charities. Our online services will help you through a lifetime of issues to ensure that trustees comply with their legal obligations; whether it is filing accounts or completing your Annual Returns; or whether you want to sell your charity's land or change its aims and objectives. In addition, our website has a huge amount of specialist advice and guidance to help your charity run as effectively as possible and assist in the most common areas that effect charities.

There are a number of bodies set up to provide advice and support to charities including some that specialise in a particular issue or type of charity. You may already be aware of or belong to one or more of these groups; details of many of them can be found on the useful websites section of our website. For example, for charities in England there is The National Council for Voluntary Organisations and for Charities in Wales there is The Wales Council for Voluntary Action.

We hope that you find all the services on our website a great help in the successful management and administration of your charity to assist you in achieving your charitable aims.

Yours sincerely

[REDACTED]