Mr. Charles Arthur

21 January 2010

Dear Mr. Arthur

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT 2000 - INFORMATION REQUEST
(Our Ref: FOI_09-199)

Your request for information received on 22 December 2009 has now been considered and the information requested is enclosed herewith.

I should note that some portions of the requested information have been excised pursuant to mandatory exemptions under the Act. Such excisions have been indicated in the material supplied. In accordance with s. 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, this letter acts as a partial Refusal Notice, and I am not obliged to supply exempted information. The reasons for exemption are as stated below:

Exemption	Reason
s.40(2), Personal information	Release of information would contravene the data protection principles under the Data Protection Act 1998

Where we have received FOIA requests which quote either the full text or excerpts from personal emails, we have redacted that information from the disclosure of the wording of the request.

I would also add that any material released over which UEA has copyright is released subject to the understanding that you will comply with all relevant copyright rules regarding reproduction and/or transmission of the information released.

You have the right of appeal against this decision. If you wish to appeal, please set out in writing your grounds of appeal and send to me at:

Response to Freedom of Information request (FOI_09-199)

I request a list of FOI requests that have been made to UEA relating to the Climate Research Unit, including the content of the request, and its status (answered, turned down, pending, etc), going back to the commencement of FOI.

[Information exempted pursuant to s.40(2), Freedom of Information Act]

The table below lists all FOIA requests we have received relating directly to the CRU or staff who work in the CRU from 1 January 2005 until 22 December 2009.

The following 58 requests were of a similar nature requesting details about the confidentiality agreements associated with data sources used by the CRU. Most of these requests were refused.

CRU have given various reasons for denying this data. I am glad that CRU is now working with the MET to get permission for the release of this data. The following 12 requests relate to other matters associated with the CRU.

Ref	Request	Status
FOI_09-165	The office is interested in obtaining a report detailing funding amounts received from U.S. grantors (or any other U.S. sources) by the Climatic Research Unit, or any of the staff affiliated with the unit. The period of time in which they are interested is somewhat flexible, but let me throw out from 1990 to the present as a starting point.	Released
FOI_09-186	Please supply copies of the accounts for the Climatic Research Unit for each of the last five years.	Refused
FOI_07-21	In Table 3.2 of IPCC AR4, you refer to Durbin-Watson statistics for various trend calculations, but do not show them. Could you please provide me with these statistics. I am unfamiliar with any prior use of the Durbin-Watson statistic "after allowing for first-order serial correlation". Could you please provide me your statistical reference showing how one calculates a Durbin-Watson statistic "after allowing for first-order serial correlation" and giving significance levels for the statistic "after allowing for first-order serial correlation". Could you please identify the statistical packages used in your calculation of REML trends and Durbin-Watson statistics?	Released

	Would it be correct to say that (1) fitted a trend to the various series; (2) fitted an AR1 arima model to the residuals from (1)? (3) carried out a Durbin-Watson test on the residuals from (2)?
FOI_09-172	Given that the alleged scientific and financial fraud at the CRU has dragged the reputation of the UEA into the gutter and down the drain, please supply copies of policy documents about how the vice-chancellor intends to try to restore the reputation of the university.	Released
FOI_09-179	In one of the leaked emails there is reference to a report written by "Harry" (presumably Ian Harris) on the subject of HADCRUT data. See http://www.eastangliaemails.com/emails.php?eid=506&filename=1112622624.txt I'd like to receive a copy of this report, in electronic format if possible, but on paper if not.	Released
FOI_09-71	I hereby make a EIR/FOI request regarding the provision of the CRUTEM data sent to persons or organizations outside of your organization. 1. Please supply a list of persons and/or organizations to whom the CRUTEM data set has been provided to in the last 5 years. If personal privacy concerns prevent you from identifying which specific persons have been provided such data, then it would be sufficient to simply supply the organizational affiliation of those persons. For example, it has come to my attention that most likely this data set has been provided to Peter Webster of the Georgia Institute of Technology in the USA. If you are unable to confirm that such data has been sent to Peter Webster, then it would meet my needs if you were to simply list Georgia Institute of Technology as the recipient. 2. Please supply a copy of any agreements between your organization and the recipients or the institutional recipients of such data that impose any conditions of confidentiality, or which prohibit further transmission of such CRUTEM data sets, or which prohibit the public posting of such data sets on the internet. 3. Please supply a copy of any internal regulations or personnel regulations or rules regarding the supplying so such "raw" temperature data products to persons outside your organization; and any internal regulations, rules, personnel guidelines regarding the confidentiality of CRUTEM data records.	Released
FOI_09-194	I write with reference to the global temperature dataset maintained by the Climate Research Unit based at the UEA (The dataset known as the CRU or HAD/CRUT record). This dataset is itself based upon raw temperature data which is currently or was held by the CRU. I would be grateful if you could provide a list of institutions and other persons with whom this raw (unprocessed) data has been shared since January 1st 2005	Released in part
FOI_09-127	I request, under FOI/EIR, a list of the individual scientists, governments, NMSs, and any other organization that has been solicited to provide temperature data for inclusion in the CRU land temperature index by any person acting in an official capacity at CRU or the University of East Anglia. I additionally request, as a separate entity, a list of the individual scientists, governments, NMSs, and any other organization that is known to have provided temperature data for the aforementioned purpose.	Pending

	The reason for my request is to determine what parties have or may have contributed information in order to lobby these parties to provide the University of East Anglia written statements of unconditional or conditional release (on satisfactory terms for academic and scientific research) of this information; or, alternatively, written statements that the information is already considered public domain. It is in the public interest for the temperature information to be freely available in order for the scientific processes of replication and sensitivity analysis of the CRU land temperature index to be conducted. As your organization has offered the position that it lacks the resources to complete this arduous undertaking itself, it is therefore greatly in the public interest that the individuals and organizations that are apparently preventing release of the information be provided such that they can be lobbied through the appropriate channels.
FOI_07-04	I would like to obtain a list of the meteorological stations used in the preparation of the HadCRUT3 global temperature average, and the raw data for those stations. I cannot find it anywhere on the web. The lead author for the temperature average is Dr. Phil Jones of the Climate Research Unit.	Refused
FOI_07-09	A couple of years ago, I requested the identities and data for the Russian, Chinese and Australian networks studied in Jones et al Nature 1990 on urbanization. At the time, you said that it would be unduly burdensome to locate the information among your diskettes as the study was then somewhat stale. However, I notice that Jones et al 1990 has been cited in IPCC AR4 (in the section where you were a Coordinating Lead Author) and continues to be cited in the literature (e.g. Peterson 2003). Accordingly, I re-iterate my request for the identification of the stations and the data used for the following three Jones et al 1990 networks: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. the west Russian network 2. the Chinese network 3. the Australian network For each network, if a subset of the data of the data was used, e.g. 80 stations selected from a larger dataset, I would appreciate all the data in the network, including the data that was not selected. In each case, please also provide the identification and data for the stations used in the gridded network which was used as a comparandum in this study.	Refused
FOI_07-13	I write regarding the following paper. Jones P.D., Groisman P.Y., Coughlan M., Plummer N., Wang W-C., Karl T.R. (1990), "Assessment of urbanization effects in time series of surface air temperature over land", Nature, 347: 169-172 [13 September 1990]. doi:10.1038/347169a0. The lead author is of course Prof. Phil Jones at your university. The paper discusses a Chinese network of meteorological stations. I am seeking the identities/locations of those stations. Please note that I am not seeking any other information; in particular, I am not seeking any environmental information.	Released
FOI_09-192	Under the Freedom of Information Act I request copies of the following information, within twenty working days, and I would like these in PDF format sent by email. Please treat these as three separate FOI requests.	Refused
