Dear Mr Gasson,

RE: Your Information Request

Thank you for your emails received today regarding targets for psychosis and talking therapies regarding Psychosis. We have aggregated your two requests as one request, as they are regarding the same issue made to the same organisation under the requirements of the FOI Act (2000).

1. Under the Freedom of Information Act, can you clarify how the Trust has produced figures and reporting access to non-pharmaceutical therapies from the diagnosis of Psychosis?

We are not able respond to this question. The term Psychosis is not a specific diagnosis but rather an umbrella diagnosis covering many conditions and presenting issues. For information about Psychosis services and PICuP services, please click on the following links

2. Under the Freedom of Information Act, can you clarify how the Trust has produced figures and reporting access to non-pharmaceutical therapies from the diagnosis of Psychosis in order to meet the to meet the recommendations regarding access to CBT and family therapies?

Please refer to the response to question 1 above.

3. Do those times vary between CHMT, Piccup and Leo?

Please refer to the response to question 1 above.

4. How many patients do not receive CBT or family therapy according to which of those three services they are seen in?

As regards to how many patients receive CBT or family therapy. The Trust wide data of service user numbers and waiting times by type of therapy are not collated across the different services within the Trust. The Trust runs four large Improving Access to Psychological Therapy (IAPT) services which provide primary care level psychological therapies across the four London Boroughs of Lambeth, Lewisham, Southwark and Croydon. Data on those services can be found at <http://content.digital.nhs.uk/iaptreports>
