See attached revised report which I think covers all the points raised at Corporate Board - I have shown them in blue for quick reference. I think I have also managed to get rid of the asterix(s)!

It probably would be helpful to use it as the basis for our discussion at the SLDP meeting given the tight turnaround time for next week. I did try and do this in the office today but there were too many interruptions. Having said that I don't have any meetings booked in for tomorrow afternoon and understand that most people are either working from home or have started their holiday so will be able to make changes that come out of SLDP.
