Dear Ms S

Freedom of Information Act - Request for Information
Our Reference: FOI 3420

Thank you for your Freedom of Information request received on 17 August 2015. You asked:

What legal grounds does DWP have to deduct money from people's benefits, when DWP has destroyed a person's information in accordance to your own policy - The benefits Document and Data Retention Guide?

For example, If someone was once receiving career's allowance and then DWP said's you owe us money yet they have destroyed all your all records apart from a call log with DWP's Debt management Department, then that person is now receiving another benefit and DWP informs that department that this person owe's money, i.e Job seekers allowance (JAS) yet that person informs 'JAS' they can't prove it, is it legal for that 'JAS' to deduct money from one's benefit, even if DWP doesn't have any evidence of this apart from a call log with debt management?

It can't be a case of DWP said so, then it must be so! There must be a procedure in order to do this, what is the procedure?

You can expect a reply by 15 September 2015 unless we need to come back to you to clarify your request or the balance of the public interest test needs to be considered.

If you have any queries about this letter please contact us quoting the reference number above.

Yours sincerely
