Dear Mr Rayment

Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA)

Thank you for your request, which was received on 2 July, for the following information:

“What measures have you taken to notify tax payers potentially impacted by the 2019 Loan Charge as passed by Parliament in the 2017 Finance Act. Specifically I need to know when HMRC will have written to every tax payer potentially impacted to advise them of the 2019 Loan Charge.”

The new disguised remuneration (DR) loan charge ensures DR tax avoidance scheme users pay their fair share by taxing loans from these schemes that remain outstanding on 5 April 2019.

Those affected can prevent the loan charge from arising by repaying the loan or agreeing a settlement with HMRC before 5 April 2019. We want to help people settle their tax position ahead of the loan charge and have provided a number of opportunities, including the publication of settlement terms on 7 November 2017, for DR scheme users to settle their tax affairs.

We are actively encouraging DR scheme users to come forward and settle through our day to day contact with customers. We are also writing directly to individuals and employers who may be impacted by the loan charge and aim to have completed the majority by the end of August 2018. We will continue to write to those who might be impacted as they are identified.

You also might like to be aware that we have raised additional awareness through our series of tax avoidance ‘Spotlight’ publications, tweets and webinars. We have worked with a range of stakeholders to generate broader awareness which has been picked up in wider media activity.

On 18 July 2018 a ‘HMRC issue briefing: disguised remuneration charge on loans’ was published on GOV.UK. This provides additional information about the loan charge, links to the settlement terms and relevant Spotlights along with helpful information for those who may have difficulty paying what they owe. This can be found at:

If you are not satisfied with this reply you may request a review within two months by emailing foi.review@hmrc.gsi.gov.uk, or by writing to the address at the top right-hand side of this letter.

If you are not content with the outcome of an internal review, you can make a complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO). Instructions about this process are available at the following link: <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>

Yours sincerely,

Freedom of Information Team
